Hi Steph

I want to try to get the EL weekly note signed off asap after this 121

I think the answer to my RAG status issue is to put a Key at the top of the table - which says:

- Green - on track
- Amber - behind target but not impacting on critical path to Stage 3 services
- Red - behind target and at risk of impacting critical path to Stage 3 services

Could you add that to the paper and recirculate to the group, as a clean copy, to check they don’t have any objection?

Thanks

Andy

In last weeks note David had a comment on whether we have the capacity for additional testing. Andy mentioned that the most important thing about David’s first comment, was that we hadn’t emphasised the benefits of the new ‘blockading’ way of working that Crossrail have adopted. By having defined windows of work followed by testing (and then back to working again), they waste far less time with handovers between the working and testing teams. It also makes for a safer working environment - hand over times are when risks tend to be higher.
Is this your understanding too?

The “Critical path RAG” being used now is a judgement against critical path impact rather than a RAG purely based on variance from MOHS baseline date which is why several have changed RAG status.

GSM-R milestone should be -21 days (the MOHS 18 baseline date had been used in error in one of our tables).

Sylvia, Andy and colleagues,

Quick Monday morning update to Friday’s draft (all in track changes).

1. I’ve added some cautious words about the testing last Thursday-Sunday. There were a number of issues, so, as I’ve noted several tests will need to be repeated in two weeks time. In themselves they are not huge but add to a backlog so I think we have to nuance the wording as the Friday version could be read as implying we are comfortable/on plan in terms of testing and we are not.

2. I haven’t changed the next para re Stage 2 Phase 1. I’ve had a roundup this morning of works over the weekend as well as the MTR catch up on Friday and I think the wording stands. Everyone expecting to go ahead on Sunday as planned – outstanding activities are clearing minor outstanding items with safety bodies and exchanging paperwork (gauging certificates, final versions of track access contract) between the various parties involved.

3. Having queried the next BT milestone (ISA Approval for the ETCS element necessary for Stage 3 ie CBTC) BT have come back this morning saying ‘sorry, were actually approving the updated version (2.1 not 2.0) so date is 11 June not 22 May’. Not clever but they assure me it has no knock on elsewhere in the programme. I’ve included a new bullet 8 and changed the date in the forecast.

Felt these are important and do need to go in this week, apologies for timing.

If we’re ready to report, then my feeling is that we should include them. I understand we’re not ready to report the P01 cost numbers.

Sylvia, I’m happy to transfer the numbers over the weekend so they are ready first thing on Monday if that helps.

For some reasons I thought the CRL Board was on the 24th. If on the 18th, does that mean the CRL Board report was circulated today to board members?

I don’t mind. Whichever option is easiest for Sylvia.

My hesitation on updating the dates now would be then we’re reporting Period 1 for milestones but won’t report period 1 for costs until after CRL Board 18 May.

Hi Sylvia

Sorry for radio silence. Been finalising a bunch of documents over here. Thing is Appendix A in the briefing note from you earlier hasn’t had the actual/forecast dates updated for Period 1 so shouldn’t have the header changed yet. In the attached, I’ve left the dates alone for now but added commentary in the critical path risk/RAG items where they’re now red or amber. Looks a bit of a mess though as track changes on colour fill cells goes a bit weird – if you put it on original show mark up that might help?

Hope you can make sense of it. Lucy

Minor catch from me – update to introductory text for Appendix A:

Appendix A: Key milestones from MOHS 2018 schedule by Stage and key issues including change since last period. The latest available dates are from Period 01 (up to 28 April 2018).

Also – can you swap in this text for paragraph 3.3?

3.3 The forecast cost for Network Rail’s delivery of the On Network Works (ONW) remains unchanged at £2,530m, against the original budget of £2,300m. Under the Crossrail agreements, this cost overrun is a DfT held risk. NR has indicated further risks in the range of with a funding request of to be funded from NR contingency.

The RAG status column is entitled Critical path risk ie judgement has been applied to whether the variance to MOHS18 baseline date is a risk to critical paths.

Have I missed Appendix A (the RAG status)? I think Lucy said this was to follow and my comments will probably be based largely on this – specifically where we are showing dates at risk what they mean or don’t mean in terms of risks going forward and what is being done about them.

Will provide some further wording re Stage 2 but much better once I’ve completed meetings in the next 4 hours or so – all about Stage 2. Richard - to set expectations the risks will not have been closed out 100% there are still activities and documents to complete next week – as always with these things.

Here you go Sylvia. I should receive a revised Appendix A close of business tonight which will include ambers…

Howard I’ve included a para on Stage 2 readiness and reincluded some verbage about checkpoints in the last para – I’d be grateful if you could review. Very happy to receive suggestions of other things to include

Testing in the tunnels between Canary Wharf and Woolwich recommenced on 11 May. Specific tests over the three testing days included platform screen door/train interfaces, DOO CCTV images from the platforms to the trains, radio coverage as well as mileage accumulation and line speed operation.

Final preparations are being made in advance of TfL Rail services commencing on 20 May between Paddington and Heathrow. Work includes minor gauge clearance activity at Paddington by Network Rail and signalling commissioning at Old Oak Common.

Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation continued last week. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7 and 12 June. There has been a small delay to the power on sequence from Westbourne Park but it still supports the start of testing in that June testing window.

At stations, a range of work continues including:

- The installation of mechanical and electrical equipment at Paddington
- At Bond Street, lift installation on the western ticket hall
- At Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel, readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power
- At Farringdon, completing platform tiling
- At Liverpool Street, installation of an incline lift

The provision of asset data, operation and maintenance manuals and training materials by contractors remains challenging. This is needed to support the handover and bringing into use of the railway. Crossrail Ltd is applying pressure on contractors to provide materials to meet training and handover plans. CRL is also working with LU and RfL to prioritise the production schedule.

There is a significant volume of safety assurance and approvals required in order to support increasingly complex aspects of dynamic testing and ultimately bring the railway into safe operation. The rate of submissions to the safety assurance bodies needs to increase and CRL has secured additional resource to assist with this as well as establishing new weekly metrics and a daily focus on required deliverables.
CRL, working with the future Infrastructure Managers (IMS), maintainers and operators has agreed the approach to evaluating each area’s readiness for trial running, trial operations and passenger service in December 2018. A detailed tracker containing all the activities needed for these three major milestones has been agreed as well as three formal checkpoints in June, July and October to assess readiness.

Thanks, skimming through this whilst waiting at OOC for Perm Sec visit. Quick observations:
1. I issued updated RSD report yesterday evening
2. Para 2.4 and 2.5 of the Headlines section remain as valid as ever. Some progress on asset data in the week, training mixed and CRL assurance submissions to RAB-C looms as large as ever. Actions in place but right to keep these front and centre.
3. Good - in terms of avoiding surprises - if some of the greens could be Ambered (easier once we have the full countdown metrics in place next week) certainly the trains ones for trial running and trial ops I’d say are amber (we wont have staff trained on shafts and portals for instance - we are focused on routeway) and I would have thought the assurance ones (not many when you look down the list) are under pressure although the RFLI approval will likely come though on time or even early (but thats saying we have a good system as an IM not how things are going in terms of taking things over).
Hope that helps, I’m back in the office PM.

We’d like some more information on the reporting of funding, specifically about key upcoming dates we need to be aware of. I raised this a couple of weeks ago
and I’m hoping that there is more certainty now.
First, do we have a confirmed date yet for when the semi-annual construction check that this will not be published in the public domain at this stage?

Secondly, in the recent Mayor’s meeting with the SoS it was agreed that there

Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation recommenced on 30 April after the train testing phase. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7-12 June. The next set of train testing activities between Canary Wharf and Woolwich will take place 10-14 May. At stations a range of work continues including: Paddington installation of mechanical and electrical equipment; Bond Street western ticket hall lift installation; Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power-ons; Farrington completing platform tiling; Liverpool Street installation of incline lift; and Woolwich completion of escalator and lift installation.

Network Rail undertook important Crossrail work over the bank holiday weekend including further enabling station works at Ealing Broadway, Southall, Acton Main Line and Hayes & Harlington.

Sylvia, Andy and colleagues,

Quick Monday morning update to Friday’s draft (all in track changes).

1. I’ve added some cautious words about the testing last Thursday-Sunday. There were a number of issues, so, as I’ve noted several tests will need to be repeated in two weeks time. In themselves they are not huge but add to a backlog so I think we have to nuance the wording as the Friday version could be read as implying we are comfortable/on plan in terms of testing and we are not.

2. I haven’t changed the next para re Stage 2 Phase 1. I’ve had a roundup this morning of works over the weekend as well as the MTR catch up on Friday and I think the wording stands. Everyone expecting to go ahead on Sunday as planned – outstanding activities are clearing minor outstanding items with safety bodies and exchanging paperwork (gauging certificates, final versions of track access contract) between the various parties involved.

3. Having queried the next BT milestone (ISA Approval for the ETCS element necessary for Stage 3 ie CBTC) BT have come back this morning saying ‘sorry, were actually approving the updated version (2.1 not 2.0) so date is 11 June not 22 May’. Not clever but they assure me it has no knock on elsewhere in the programme. I’ve included a new bullet 8 and changed the date in the forecast.

Felt these are important and do need to go in this week, apologies for timing.

Hi Sylvia

Sorry for radio silence. Been finalising a bunch of documents over here.

Thing is Appendix A in the briefing note from you earlier hasn’t had the actual/forecast dates updated for Period 1 so shouldn’t have the header changed yet.

In the attached, I’ve left the dates alone for now but added commentary in the critical path risk/RAG items where they’re now red or amber.

Looks a bit of a mess though as track changes on colour fill cells goes a bit weird – if you put it on original show mark up that might help?

Hope you can make sense of it.

Hi Sylvia,

Minor catch from me – update to introductory text for Appendix A:

Appendix A: Key milestones from MOHS 2018 schedule by Stage and key issues including change since last period. The latest available dates are from Period 01 (up to 28 April 2018).

Also – can you swap in this text for paragraph 3.3?

3.3 The forecast cost for Network Rail’s delivery of the On Network Works (ONW) remains unchanged at £2,530m, against the original budget of £2,300m. Under the Crossrail agreements, this cost overrun is a DfT held risk. NR has indicated further risks in the range of xxxx, with a funding request of xxxx to be funded from NR contingency.

Thank you

Have I missed Appendix A (the RAG status)? I think Lucy said this was to follow and my comments will probably be based largely on this – specifically where we are showing dates at risk what they mean or don’t mean in terms of risks going forward and what is being done about them.

Will provide some further wording re Stage 2 but much better once I’ve completed meetings in the next 4 hours or so – all about Stage 2. Richard - to set expectations the risks will not have been closed out 100% there are still activities and documents to complete next week – as always with these things.

Howard I’ve included a para on Stage 2 readiness and reincluded some verbage about checkpoints in the last para – I’d be grateful if you could review. Very happy to receive suggestions of other things to include
Testing in the tunnels between Canary Wharf and Woolwich recommenced on 11 May. Specific tests over the three testing days included platform screen door/train interfaces, DOO CCTV images from the platforms to the trains, radio coverage as well as mileage accumulation and line speed operation. Final preparations are being made in advance of TfL Rail services commencing on 20 May between Paddington and Heathrow. Work includes minor gauge clearance activity at Paddington by Network Rail and signalling commissioning at Old Oak Common.

Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation continued last week. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7 and 12 June. There has been a small delay to the power on sequence from Westbourne Park but it still supports the start of testing in that June testing window.

At stations, a range of work continues including:

- The installation of mechanical and electrical equipment at Paddington
- At Bond Street, lift installation on the western ticket hall
- At Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel, readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power
- At Farringdon, completing platform tiling

OK, but that wasn’t my understanding of Amber RAG (even based on the sentence in last week’s note which, I accept, we took out but maybe should have left in).
That omitted sentence said Amber meant ‘on track but we have concerns’, but I think you’re saying it means ‘not on track but we’re not worried’?
Either way I think we need to state what Amber means, in the Appendix.

Quick Monday morning update to Friday’s draft (all in track changes).

1. I’ve added some cautious words about the testing last Thursday-Sunday. There were a number of issues, so, as I’ve noted several tests will need to be repeated in two weeks time. In themselves they are not huge but add to a backlog so I think we have to nuance the wording as the Friday version could be read as implying we are comfortable/on plan in terms of testing and we are not.

2. I haven’t changed the next para re Stage 2 Phase 1. I’ve had a roundup this morning of works over the weekend as well as the MTR catch up on Friday and I think the wording stands. Everyone expecting to go ahead on Sunday as planned – outstanding activities are clearing minor outstanding items with safety bodies and exchanging paperwork (gauging certificates, final versions of track access contract) between the various parties involved.

3. Having queried the next BT milestone (ISA Approval for the ETCS element necessary for Stage 3 ie CBTC) BT have come back this morning saying ‘sorry, were actually approving the updated version (2.1 not 2.0) so date is 11 June not 22 May’. Not clever but they assure me it has no knock on elsewhere in the programme. I’ve included a new bullet 8 and changed the date in the forecast.

Felt these are important and do need to go in this week, apologies for timing.

Sylvia, I'm happy to transfer the numbers over the weekend so they are ready first thing on Monday if that helps.
For some reasons I thought the CRL Board was on the 24th. If on the 18th, does that mean the CRL Board report was circulated today to board members?

Minor catch from me – update to introductory text for Appendix A:
Appendix A: Key milestones from MOHS 2018 schedule by Stage and key issues including change since last period.
The latest available dates are from Period 01 (up to 28 April 2018).
Also – can you swap in this text for paragraph 3.3?
3.3 The forecast cost for Network Rail’s delivery of the On Network Works (ONW) remains unchanged at £2,530m, against the original budget of £2,300m. Under the Crossrail agreements, this cost overrun is a DfT held risk. NR has indicated further risks in the range of £30m to £50m with a funding request of £30m to be funded from NR contingency.

Have I missed Appendix A (the RAG status)? I think Lucy said this was to follow and my comments will probably be based largely on this – specifically where we are showing dates at risk what they mean or don’t mean in terms of risks going forward and what is being done about them.

Will provide some further wording re Stage 2 but much better once I’ve completed meetings in the next 4 hours or so – all about Stage 2. Richard - to set expectations the risks will not have been closed out 100% there are still activities and documents to complete next week – as always with these things.

Howard I’ve included a para on Stage 2 readiness and reincluded some verbage about checkpoints in the last para – I’d be grateful if you could review. Very happy to receive suggestions of other things to include

Testing in the tunnels between Canary Wharf and Woolwich recommenced on 11 May. Specific tests over the three testing days included platform screen door/train interfaces, DOO CCTV images from the platforms to the trains, radio coverage as well as mileage accumulation and line speed operation.

Final preparations are being made in advance of TFL Rail services commencing on 20 May between Paddington and Heathrow. Work includes minor gauge clearance activity at Paddington by Network Rails and signalling commissioning at Old Oak Common.

Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation continued last week. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7 and 12 June. There has been a small delay to the power on sequence from Westbourne Park but it still supports the start of testing in that June testing window.

At stations, a range of work continues including:

? The installation of mechanical and electrical equipment at Paddington

? At Bond Street, lift installation on the western ticket hall

? At Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel, readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power

? At Farringdon, completing platform tiling

? At Liverpool Street, installation of an incline lift

? At Woolwich, the completion of escalator and lift installation

The provision of asset data, operation and maintenance manuals and training materials by contractors remains challenging. This is needed to support the handover and bringing into use of the railway. Crossrail Ltd is applying pressure on contractors to provide materials to meet training and handover plans. CRL is also working with LU and RfL to prioritise the production schedule.

There is a significant volume of safety assurance and approvals required in order to support increasingly complex aspects of dynamic testing and ultimately bring the railway into safe operation. The rate of submissions to the safety assurance bodies needs to increase and CRL has secured additional resource to assist with this as well as establishing new weekly metrics and a daily focus on required deliverables.

CRL, working with the future Infrastructure Managers (IMS), maintainers and operators has agreed the approach to evaluating each area’s readiness for trial running, trial operations and passenger service in December 2018. A detailed tracker containing all the activities needed for these three major milestones has been agreed as well as three formal checkpoints in June, July and October to assess readiness.

Thanks, skimming through this whilst waiting at OOC for Perm Sec visit. Quick observations:
1. I issued updated RSD report yesterday evening
2. Para 2.4 and 2.5 of the Headlines section remain as valid as ever. Some progress on asset data in the week, training mixed and CRL assurance submissions to RAB-C looms as large as ever. Actions in place but right to keep these front and centre.
3. Good - in terms of avoiding surprises - if some of the greens could be Ambered (easier once we have the full countdown metrics in place next week) certainly the trains ones for trial running and trial ops I’d say are amber (we wont have staff trained on shafts and portals for instance - we are focused on routeway) and I would have thought the assurance ones (not many when you look down the list) are under pressure although the RfLi approval will likely come though on time or even early (but thats saying we have a good system as an IM not how things are going in terms of taking things over).

Hope that helps, I’m back in the office PM.

We’d like some more information on the reporting of funding, specifically about key upcoming dates we need to be aware of. I raised this a couple of weeks ago and I’m hoping that there is more certainty now.

First, do we have a confirmed date yet for when the semi-annual construction report will be submitted? Also, I know I’ve asked this before, but can I double check that this will not be published in the public domain at this stage?

Secondly, in the recent Mayor’s meeting with the SoS it was agreed that there would be a joint public statement ahead of the SoS’s statement to Parliament in June. Have there been any further discussions about agreeing a date for this? And do we have a confirmed date for the SoS’s statement to Parliament?

I suggest you also pull forward a para from Howard’s BT briefing – I can’t specify which without seeing it

I’ve included a sentence on NR activity over this coming weekend – again at this point I’m having to guess a bit…..

Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation recommenced on 30 April after the train testing phase. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7-12 June. Network Rail undertook important Crossrail work over the bank holiday weekend including further enabling station works at Ealing Broadway, Southall, Acton Main Line and Hayes & Harlington.

Hi Sylvia,

Minor catch from me – update to introductory text for Appendix A:
Appendix A: Key milestones from MOHS 2018 schedule by Stage and key issues including change since last period. The latest available dates are from Period 01 (up to 28 April 2018).

Also – can you swap in this text for paragraph 3.3?
3.3 The forecast cost for Network Rail’s delivery of the On Network Works (ONW) remains unchanged at £2,530m, against the original budget of £2,300m. Under the Crossrail agreements, this cost overrun is a DfT held risk. NR has indicated further risks in the range of £200m with a funding request of £100m to be funded from NR contingency.

Thank you

Have I missed Appendix A (the RAG status)? I think Lucy said this was to follow and my comments will probably be based largely on this – specifically where we are showing dates at risk what they mean or don’t mean in terms of risks going forward and what is being done about them.

Will provide some further wording re Stage 2 but much better once I’ve completed meetings in the next 4 hours or so – all about Stage 2. Howard I’ve included a para on Stage 2 readiness and reincluded some verbage about checkpoints in the last para – I’d be grateful if you could review. Very happy to receive suggestions of other things to include

Testing in the tunnels between Canary Wharf and Woolwich recommenced on 11 May. Specific tests over the three testing days included platform screen door/train interfaces, DOO CCTV images from the platforms to the trains, radio coverage as well as mileage accumulation and line speed operation. Final preparations are being made in advance of TfL Rail services commencing on 20 May between Paddington and Heathrow. Work includes minor gauge clearance activity at Paddington by Network Rail and signalling commissioning at Old Oak Common.

Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation continued last week. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7 and 12 June. There has been a small delay to the power on sequence from Westbourne Park but it still supports the start of testing in that June testing window.

At stations, a range of work continues including:

- The installation of mechanical and electrical equipment at Paddington
- At Bond Street, lift installation on the western ticket hall
- At Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel, readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power
- At Farrington, completing platform tiling
- At Liverpool Street, installation of an incline lift
- At Woolwich, the completion of escalator and lift installation

The provision of asset data, operation and maintenance manuals and training materials by contractors remains challenging. This is needed to support the handover and bringing into use of the railway. Crossrail Ltd is applying pressure on contractors to provide materials to meet training and handover plans. CRL is also working with LU and RfL to prioritise the production schedule.

There is a significant volume of safety assurance and approvals required in order to support increasingly complex aspects of dynamic testing and ultimately bring the railway into safe operation. The rate of submissions to the safety assurance bodies needs to increase and CRL has secured additional resource to assist with this as well as establishing new weekly metrics and a daily focus on required deliverables.

CRL, working with the future Infrastructure Managers (IMS), maintainers and operators has agreed the approach to evaluating each area’s readiness for trial running, trial operations and passenger service in December 2018. A detailed tracker containing all the activities needed for these three major milestones has been agreed as well as three formal checkpoints in June, July and October to assess readiness.

Thanks, skimming through this whilst waiting at OOC for Perm Sec visit. Quick observations:
1. I issued updated RSD report yesterday evening
2. Para 2.4 and 2.5 of the Headlines section remain as valid as ever. Some progress on asset data in the week, training mixed and CRL assurance submissions to RAB-C looms as large as ever. Actions in place but right to keep these front and centre.
3. Good - in terms of avoiding surprises - if some of the greens could be Ambered (easier once we have the full countdown metrics in place next week) certainly the trains ones for trial running and trial ops I'd say are amber (we wont have staff trained on shafts and portals for instance - we are focused on routeway) and I would have thought the assurance ones (not many when you look down the list) are under pressure although the RfLi approval will likely come through on time or even early (but thats saying we have a good system as an IM not how things are going in terms of taking things over).

Hope that helps, I’m back in the office PM.

We’d like some more information on the reporting of funding, specifically about key upcoming dates we need to be aware of. I raised this a couple of weeks ago and I’m hoping that there is more certainty now.

First, do we have a confirmed date yet for when the semi-annual construction report will be submitted? Also, I know I’ve asked this before, but can I double check that this will not be published in the public domain at this stage?

Secondly, in the recent Mayor’s meeting with the SoS it was agreed that there would be a joint public statement ahead of the SoS’s statement to Parliament in June. Have there been any further discussions about agreeing a date for this?

And do we have a confirmed date for the SoS’s statement to Parliament?

I suggest you also pull forward a para from Howard’s BT briefing – I can’t specify which without seeing it.

I’ve included a sentence on NR activity over this coming weekend – again at this point I’m having to guess a bit…..

Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation recommenced on 30 April after the train testing phase. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7-12 June. Network Rail undertook important Crossrail work over the bank holiday weekend including further enabling station works at Ealing Broadway, Southall, Acton Main Line and Hayes & Harlington.

OK, but that wasn't my understanding of Amber RAG (even based on the sentence in last week's note which, I accept, we took out but maybe should have left in).

That omitted sentence said Amber meant 'on track but we have concerns', but I think you're saying it means 'not on track but we're not worried'?

Either way I think we need to state what Amber means, in the Appendix.

Andy

The "Critical path RAG" being used now is a judgement against critical path impact rather than a RAG purely based on variance from MOHS baseline date which is why several have changed RAG status

GSM-R milestone should be -21 days (the MOHS 18 baseline date had been used in error in one of our tables).

Lucy

Sorry to be a pain but before I run this past Mike - some minor tweaks on the attached but also a number of comments about the RAG status we're giving to some items in the Appendix, which don't seem justifiable compared to last week's RAG statuses?

Andy

Attached is the clean version which incorporates all the changes.

Sylvia

Sylvia, Andy and colleagues,

Quick Monday morning update to Friday’s draft (all in track changes).

1. I’ve added some cautious words about the testing last Thursday-Sunday. There were a number of issues, so, as I’ve noted several tests will need to be repeated in two weeks time. In themselves they are not huge but add to a backlog so I think we have to nuance the wording as the Friday version could be read as implying we are comfortable/on plan in terms of testing and we are not.

2. I haven’t changed the next para re Stage 2 Phase 1. I’ve had a roundup this morning of works over the weekend as well as the MTR catch up on Friday and I think the wording stands. Everyone expecting to go ahead on Sunday as planned – outstanding activities are clearing minor outstanding items with safety bodies and exchanging paperwork (gauging certificates, final versions of track access contract) between the various parties involved.

3. Having queried the next BT milestone (ISA Approval for the ETCS element necessary for Stage 3ie CBTC) BT have come back this morning saying ‘sorry, were actually approving the updated version (2.1 not 2.0) so date is 11 June not 22 May’. Not clever but they assure me it has no knock on elsewhere in the programme. I’ve included a new bullet 8 and changed the date in the forecast.

Felt these are important and do need to go in this week, apologies for timing.

I don’t mind. Whichever option is easiest for Sylvia.

My hesitation on updating the dates now would be then we’re reporting Period 1 for milestones but won’t report period 1 for costs until after CRL Board 18 May. I understand we’re not ready to report the P01 cost numbers.

Sylvia, I’m happy to transfer the numbers over the weekend so they are ready first thing on Monday if that helps.

For some reasons I thought the CRL Board was on the 24th. If on the 18th, does that mean the CRL Board report was circulated today to board members?

Sorry for radio silence. Been finalising a bunch of documents over here.

Thing is Appendix A in the briefing note from you earlier hasn’t had the actual/forecast dates updated for Period 1 so shouldn’t have the header changed yet.

In the attached, I’ve left the dates alone for now but added commentary in the critical path risk/RAG items where they’re now red or amber.

Looks a bit of a mess though as track changes on colour fill cells goes a bit weird – if you put it on original show mark up that might help?

Hope you can make sense of it.

I have also included some comments within Appendix A where we may consider adding some text to explain potential pressures where the status is Green in advance of potentially getting more amber ratings within the P1 update. Are we on track for this following the CRL internal review last week?
Echoing Howard’s comments last week we should aim to reduce any surprises in the reports.
Thank you

We’d like some more information on the reporting of funding, specifically about key upcoming dates we need to be aware of. I raised this a couple of weeks ago and I’m hoping that there is more certainty now.

First, do we have a confirmed date yet for when the semi-annual construction report will be submitted? Also, I know I’ve asked this before, but can I double check that this will not be published in the public domain at this stage?

Secondly, in the recent Mayor’s meeting with the SoS it was agreed that there would be a joint public statement ahead of the SoS’s statement to Parliament in June. Have there been any further discussions about agreeing a date for this?

And do we have a confirmed date for the SoS’s statement to Parliament?

I’ve included a sentence on NR activity over this coming weekend – again at this point I’m having to guess a bit…..

Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation recommenced on 30 April after the train testing phase. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7-12 June. The next set of train testing activities between Canary Wharf and Woolwich will take place 10-14 May. At stations a range of work continues including: Paddington installation of mechanical and electrical equipment; Bond Street western ticket hall lift installation; Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power-ons; Farrington completing platform tiling; Liverpool Street installation of incline lift; and Woolwich completion of escalator and lift installation

Network Rail undertook important Crossrail work over the bank holiday weekend including further enabling station works at Ealing Broadway, Southall, Acton Main Line and Hayes & Harlington.

OK, but that wasn’t my understanding of Amber RAG (even based on the sentence in last week’s note which, I accept, we took out but maybe should have left in).

That omitted sentence said Amber meant ‘on track but we have concerns’, but I think you’re saying it means ‘not on track but we’re not worried’?

Either way I think we need to state what Amber means, in the Appendix.

The “Critical path RAG” being used now is a judgement against critical path impact rather than a RAG purely based on variance from MOHS baseline date which is why several have changed RAG status.

GSM-R milestone should be -21 days (the MOHS 18 baseline date had been used in error in one of our tables).

Sylvia, Andy and colleagues,

Quick Monday morning update to Friday’s draft (all in track changes).

1. I’ve added some cautious words about the testing last Thursday-Sunday. There were a number of issues, so, as I’ve noted several tests will need to be repeated in two weeks time. In themselves they are not huge but add to a backlog so I think we have to nuance the wording as the Friday version could be read as implying we are comfortable/on plan in terms of testing and we are not.

2. I haven’t changed the next para re Stage 2 Phase 1. I’ve had a roundup this morning of works over the weekend as well as the MTR catch up on Friday and I think the wording stands. Everyone expecting to go ahead on Sunday as planned – outstanding activities are clearing minor outstanding items with safety bodies and exchanging paperwork (gauging certificates, final versions of track access contract) between the various parties involved.

3. Having queried the next BT milestone (ISA Approval for the ETCS element necessary for Stage 3 ie CBTC) BT have come back this morning saying ‘sorry, were actually approving the updated version (2.1 not 2.0) so date is 11 June not 22 May’. Not clever but they assure me it has no knock on elsewhere in the programme. I’ve included a new bullet 8 and changed the date in the forecast.

Felt these are important and do need to go in this week, apologies for timing.

Hi Lucy,

If we’re ready to report, then my feeling is that we should include them. I understand we’re not ready to report the P01 cost numbers.

Sylvia, I’m happy to transfer the numbers over the weekend so they are ready first thing on Monday if that helps.

For some reasons I thought the CRL Board was on the 24th. If on the 18th, does that mean the CRL Board report was circulated today to board members?

I don’t mind. Whichever option is easiest for Sylvia.

My hesitation on updating the dates now would be then we’re reporting Period 1 for milestones but won’t report period 1 for costs until after CRL Board 18 May.

Hi Sylvia

Sorry for radio silence. Been finalising a bunch of documents over here. Thing is Appendix A in the briefing note from you earlier hasn’t had the actual/forecast dates updated for Period 1 so shouldn’t have the header changed yet. In the attached, I’ve left the dates alone for now but added commentary in the critical path risk/RAG items where they’re now red or amber. Looks a bit of a mess though as track changes on colour fill cells goes a bit weird – if you put it on original show mark up that might help?

Hope you can make sense of it.

Minor catch from me – update to introductory text for Appendix A:

Appendix A: Key milestones from MOHS 2018 schedule by Stage and key issues including change since last period. The latest available dates are from Period 01 (up to 28 April 2018).

Also – can you swap in this text for paragraph 3.3?

3.3 The forecast cost for Network Rail’s delivery of the On Network Works (ONW) remains unchanged at £2,530m, against the original budget of £2,300m. Under the Crossrail agreements, this cost overrun is a DfT held risk. NR has indicated further risks in the range of with a funding request of to be funded from NR contingency.

The RAG status column is entitled Critical path risk ie judgement has been applied to whether the variance to MOHS18 baseline date is a risk to critical paths.

Have I missed Appendix A (the RAG status)? I think Lucy said this was to follow and my comments will probably be based largely on this – specifically where we are showing dates at risk what they mean or don’t mean in terms of risks going forward and what is being done about them.

Will provide some further wording re Stage 2 but much better once I’ve completed meetings in the next 4 hours or so – all about Stage 2. Richard - to set expectations the risks will not have been closed out 100% there are still activities and documents to complete next week – as always with these things.

Howard I’ve included a para on Stage 2 readiness and reincluded some verbage about checkpoints in the last para – I’d be grateful if you could review. Very happy to receive suggestions of other things to include

Testing in the tunnels between Canary Wharf and Woolwich recommenced on 11 May. Specific tests over the three testing days included platform screen door/train interfaces, DOO CCTV images from the platforms to the trains, radio coverage as well as mileage accumulation and line speed operation. Final preparations are being made in advance of TfL Rail services commencing on 20 May between Paddington and Heathrow. Work includes minor gauge clearance activity at Paddington by Network Rail and signalling commissioning at Old Oak Common. Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation continued last week. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7 and 12 June. There has been a small delay to the power on sequence from Westbourne Park but it still supports the start of testing in that June testing window.

At stations, a range of work continues including:

- The installation of mechanical and electrical equipment at Paddington
- At Bond Street, lift installation on the western ticket hall
- At Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel, readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power
- At Farrington, completing platform tiling
- At Liverpool Street, installation of an incline lift
- At Woolwich, the completion of escalator and lift installation

The provision of asset data, operation and maintenance manuals and training materials by contractors remains challenging. This is needed to support the handover and bringing into use of the railway. Crossrail Ltd is applying pressure on contractors to provide materials to meet training and handover plans. CRL is also working with LU and RL to prioritise the production schedule.

There is a significant volume of safety assurance and approvals required in order to support increasingly complex aspects of dynamic testing and ultimately bring the railway into safe operation. The rate of submissions to the safety assurance bodies needs to increase and CRL has secured additional resource to assist with this as well as establishing new weekly metrics and a daily focus on required deliverables.

CRL, working with the future Infrastructure Managers (IMS), maintainers and operators has agreed the approach to evaluating each area’s readiness for trial running, trial operations and passenger service in December 2018. A detailed tracker containing all the activities needed for these three major milestones has been agreed as well as three formal checkpoints in June, July and October to assess readiness.

Hi Sylvia

Sorry for radio silence. Been finalising a bunch of documents over here.

Thing is Appendix A in the briefing note from you earlier hasn’t had the actual/forecast dates updated for Period 1 so shouldn’t have the header changed yet.

In the attached, I’ve left the dates alone for now but added commentary in the critical path risk/RAG items where they’re now red or amber.

Looks a bit of a mess though as track changes on colour fill cells goes a bit weird – if you put it on original show mark up that might help?

Hope you can make sense of it.

Hi Sylvia,

Minor catch from me – update to introductory text for Appendix A:

Appendix A: Key milestones from MOHS 2018 schedule by Stage and key issues including change since last period. The latest available dates are from Period 01 (up to 28 April 2018).

Also – can you swap in this text for paragraph 3.3?

3.3 The forecast cost for Network Rail’s delivery of the On Network Works (ONW) remains unchanged at £2,530m, against the original budget of £2,300m. Under the Crossrail agreements, this cost overrun is a DfT held risk. NR has indicated further risks in the range of £300m with a funding request of £50m to be funded from NR contingency.

Thank you

Have I missed Appendix A (the RAG status)? I think Lucy said this was to follow and my comments will probably be based largely on this – specifically where we are showing dates at risk what they mean or don’t mean in terms of risks going forward and what is being done about them.

Will provide some further wording re Stage 2 but much better once I’ve completed meetings in the next 4 hours or so – all about Stage 2. Richard - to set expectations the risks will not have been closed out 100% there are still activities and documents to complete next week – as always with these things.

Testing in the tunnels between Canary Wharf and Woolwich recommenced on 11 May. Specific tests over the three testing days included platform screen door/train interfaces, DOO CCTV images from the platforms to the trains, radio coverage as well as mileage accumulation and line speed operation.

Final preparations are being made in advance of TfL Rail services commencing on 20 May between Paddington and Heathrow. Work includes minor gauge clearance activity at Paddington by Network Rail and signalling commissioning at Old Oak Common.

Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation continued last week. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7 and 12 June. There has been a small delay to the power on sequence from Westbourne Park but it still supports the start of testing in that June testing window.

At stations, a range of work continues including:

- The installation of mechanical and electrical equipment at Paddington
- At Bond Street, lift installation on the western ticket hall
- At Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel, readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power
- At Farringdon, completing platform tiling
- At Liverpool Street, installation of an incline lift
- At Woolwich, the completion of escalator and lift installation

The provision of asset data, operation and maintenance manuals and training materials by contractors remains challenging. This is needed to support the handover and bringing into use of the railway. Crossrail Ltd is applying pressure on contractors to provide materials to meet training and handover plans. CRL is also working with LU and RfL to prioritise the production schedule.

There is a significant volume of safety assurance and approvals required in order to support increasingly complex aspects of dynamic testing and ultimately bring the railway into safe operation. The rate of submissions to the safety assurance bodies needs to increase and CRL has secured additional resource to assist with this as well as establishing new weekly metrics and a daily focus on required deliverables.

CRL, working with the future Infrastructure Managers (IMS), maintainers and operators has agreed the approach to evaluating each area’s readiness for trial running, trial operations and passenger service in December 2018. A detailed tracker containing all the activities needed for these three major milestones has been agreed as well as three formal checkpoints in June, July and October to assess readiness.

Thanks, skimming through this whilst waiting at OOC for Perm Sec visit. Quick observations:

1. I issued updated RSD report yesterday evening
2. Para 2.4 and 2.5 of the Headlines section remain as valid as ever. Some progress on asset data in the week, training mixed and CRL assurance submissions to RAB-C looms as large as ever. Actions in place but right to keep these front and centre.
3. Good - in terms of avoiding surprises - if some of the greens could be Ambered (easier once we have the full countdown metrics in place next week) certainly the trains ones for trial running and trial ops I’d say are amber (we wont have staff trained on shafts and portals for instance - we are focused on routeway) and I would have thought the assurance ones (not many when you look down the list) are under pressure although the RfLi approval will likely come though on time or even early (but thats saying we have a good system as an IM not how things are going in terms of taking things over).

Hope that helps, I’m back in the office PM.

First, do we have a confirmed date yet for when the semi-annual construction report will be submitted? Also, I know I’ve asked this before, but can I double check that this will not be published in the public domain at this stage?

Secondly, in the recent Mayor’s meeting with the SoS it was agreed that there would be a joint public statement ahead of the SoS’s statement to Parliament in June. Have there been any further discussions about agreeing a date for this?

And do we have a confirmed date for the SoS’s statement to Parliament?

Sylvia, Andy and colleagues,

Quick Monday morning update to Friday’s draft (all in track changes).

1. I’ve added some cautious words about the testing last Thursday-Sunday. There were a number of issues, so, as I’ve noted several tests will need to be repeated in two weeks time. In themselves they are not huge but add to a backlog so I think we have to nuance the wording as the Friday version could be read as implying we are comfortable/on plan in terms of testing and we are not.

2. I haven’t changed the next para re Stage 2 Phase 1. I’ve had a roundup this morning of works over the weekend as well as the MTR catch up on Friday and I think the wording stands. Everyone expecting to go ahead on Sunday as planned – outstanding activities are clearing minor outstanding items with safety bodies and exchanging paperwork (gauging certificates, final versions of track access contract) between the various parties involved.

I’ve included a sentence on NR activity over this coming weekend – again
Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation recommenced on 30 April after the train testing phase. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7-12 June. The next set of train testing activities between Canary Wharf and Woolwich will take place 10-14 May. At stations a range of work continues including: Paddington installation of mechanical and electrical equipment; Bond Street western ticket hall lift installation; Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power-ons; Farringdon completing platform tiling; Liverpool Street installation of incline lift; and Woolwich completion of escalator and lift installation.

Network Rail undertook important Crossrail work over the bank holiday weekend including further enabling station works at Ealing Broadway, Southall, Acton Main Line and Hayes & Harlington.

Hi Sylvia,

Sorry for radio silence. Been finalising a bunch of documents over here.

Thing is Appendix A in the briefing note from you earlier hasn't had the actual/forecast dates updated for Period 1 so shouldn't have the header changed yet.

In the attached, I've left the dates alone for now but added commentary in the critical path risk/RAG items where they're now red or amber.

Looks a bit of a mess though as track changes on colour fill cells goes a bit weird – if you put it on original show mark up that might help?

Hope you can make sense of it.

Here you go Sylvia. I should receive a revised Appendix A close of business tonight which will include ambers…

Howard I’ve included a para on Stage 2 readiness and reinccluded some verbage about checkpoints in the last para – I’d be grateful if you could review. Very happy to receive suggestions of other things to include

Testing in the tunnels between Canary Wharf and Woolwich recommenced on 11 May. Specific tests over the three testing days included platform screen door/train interfaces, DOO CCTV images from the platforms to the trains, radio coverage as well as mileage accumulation and line speed operation. Final preparations are being made in advance of TFL Rail services commencing on 20 May between Paddington and Heathrow. Work includes minor gauge clearance activity at Paddington by Network Rail and signalling commissioning at Old Oak Common. Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation continued last week. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7 and 12 June. There has been a small delay to the power on sequence from Westbourne Park but it still supports the start of testing in that June testing window.

At stations, a range of work continues including:

• The installation of mechanical and electrical equipment at Paddington
• At Bond Street, lift installation on the western ticket hall
• At Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel, readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power
• At Farringdon, completing platform tiling
• At Liverpool Street, installation of an incline lift
• At Woolwich, the completion of escalator and lift installation

The provision of asset data, operation and maintenance manuals and training materials by contractors remains challenging. This is needed to support the handover and bringing into use of the railway. Crossrail Ltd is applying pressure on contractors to provide materials to meet training and handover plans. CRL is also working with LU and RfL to prioritise the production schedule.

There is a significant volume of safety assurance and approvals required in order to support increasingly complex aspects of dynamic testing and ultimately bring the railway into safe operation. The rate of submissions to the safety assurance bodies needs to increase and CRL has secured additional resource to assist with this as well as establishing new weekly metrics and a daily focus on required deliverables.

CRL, working with the future Infrastructure Managers (IMS), maintainers and operators has agreed the approach to evaluating each area’s readiness for trial running, trial operations and passenger service in December 2018. A detailed tracker containing all the activities needed for these three major milestones has been agreed as well as three formal checkpoints in June, July and October to assess readiness.

Thanks, skimming through this whilst waiting at OOC for Perm Sec visit. Quick observations:
1. I issued updated RSD report yesterday evening
2. Para 2.4 and 2.5 of the Headlines section remain as valid as ever. Some progress on asset data in the week, training mixed and CRL assurance submissions to RAB-C looms as large as ever. Actions in place but right to keep these front and centre.
3. Good - in terms of avoiding surprises - if some of the greens could be Ambered (easier once we have the full countdown metrics in place next week) certainly the trains ones for trial running and trial ops I’d say are amber (we wont have staff trained on shafts and portals for instance - we are focused on routeway) and I would have thought the assurance ones (not many when you look down the list) are under pressure although the RfLi approval will likely come though on time or even early (but that’s saying we have a good system as an IM not how things are going in terms of taking things over).
Hope that helps, I’m back in the office PM.

We’d like some more information on the reporting of funding, specifically about key upcoming dates we need to be aware of. I raised this a couple of weeks ago and I’m hoping that there is more certainty now.
First, do we have a confirmed date yet for when the semi-annual construction report will be submitted? Also, I know I’ve asked this before, but can I double check that this will not be published in the public domain at this stage?
Secondly, in the recent Mayor’s meeting with the SoS it was agreed that there would be a joint public statement ahead of the SoS’s statement to Parliament in June. Have there been any further discussions about agreeing a date for this?
And do we have a confirmed date for the SoS’s statement to Parliament?

Howard I’ve included a para on Stage 2 readiness and reincluded some verbage about checkpoints in the last para – I’d be grateful if you could review. Very happy to receive suggestions of other things to include.

Testing in the tunnels between Canary Wharf and Woolwich recommenced on 11 May. Specific tests over the three testing days included platform screen door/train interfaces, DOO CCTV images from the platforms to the trains, radio coverage as well as mileage accumulation and line speed operation.

Final preparations are being made in advance of TfL Rail services commencing on 20 May between Paddington and Heathrow. Work includes minor gauge clearance activity at Paddington by Network Rail and signalling commissioning at Old Oak Common.
Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation continued last week. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7 and 12 June. There has been a small delay to the power on sequence from Westbourne Park but it still supports the start of testing in that June testing window.

At stations, a range of work continues including:

- The installation of mechanical and electrical equipment at Paddington
- At Bond Street, lift installation on the western ticket hall
- At Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel, readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power
- At Farringdon, completing platform tiling
- At Liverpool Street, installation of an incline lift
- At Woolwich, the completion of escalator and lift installation

The provision of asset data, operation and maintenance manuals and training materials by contractors remains challenging. This is needed to support the handover and bringing into use of the railway. Crossrail Ltd is applying pressure on contractors to provide materials to meet training and handover plans. CRL is also working with LU and RIL to prioritise the production schedule.

There is a significant volume of safety assurance and approvals required in order to support increasingly complex aspects of dynamic testing and ultimately bring the railway into safe operation. The rate of submissions to the safety assurance bodies needs to increase and CRL has secured additional resource to assist with this as well as establishing new weekly metrics and a daily focus on required deliverables.

CRL, working with the future Infrastructure Managers (IMS), maintainers and operators has agreed the approach to evaluating each area’s readiness for trial running, trial operations and passenger service in December 2018. A detailed tracker containing all the activities needed for these three major milestones has been agreed as well as three formal checkpoints in June, July and October to assess readiness.

Thanks, skimming through this whilst waiting at OOC for Perm Sec visit. Quick observations:
1. I issued updated RSD report yesterday evening
2. Para 2.4 and 2.5 of the Headlines section remain as valid as ever. Some progress on asset data in the week, training mixed and CRL assurance submissions to RAB-C looms as large as ever. Actions in place but right to keep these front and centre.
3. Good - in terms of avoiding surprises - if some of the greens could be Ambered (easier once we have the full countdown metrics in place next week) certainly the trains ones for trial running and trial ops (I’d say are amber (we won’t have staff trained on shafts and portals for instance - we are focused on routeway) and I would have thought the assurance ones (not many when you look down the list) are under pressure although the RfLi approval will likely come though on time or even early (but that’s saying we have a good system as an IM not how things are going in terms of taking things over).

Hope that helps, I’m back in the office PM.

We’d like some more information on the reporting of funding, specifically about key upcoming dates we need to be aware of. I raised this a couple of weeks ago and I’m hoping that there is more certainty now.

First, do we have a confirmed date yet for when the semi-annual construction report will be submitted? Also, I know I’ve asked this before, but can I double check that this will not be published in the public domain at this stage?

Secondly, in the recent Mayor’s meeting with the SoS it was agreed that there would be a joint public statement ahead of the SoS’s statement to Parliament in June. Have there been any further discussions about agreeing a date for this? And do we have a confirmed date for the SoS’s statement to Parliament?

Sylvia, Andy and colleagues,

Quick Monday morning update to Friday's draft (all in track changes).

1. I've added some cautious words about the testing last Thursday-Sunday. There were a number of issues, so, as I noted several tests will need to be repeated in two weeks time. In themselves they are not huge but add to a backlog so I think we have to nuance the wording as the Friday version could be read as implying we are comfortable/on plan in terms of testing and we are not.

2. I haven't changed the next para re Stage 2 Phase 1. I've had a rundown this morning of works over the weekend as well as the MTR catch up on Friday and I think the wording stands. Everyone expecting to go ahead on Sunday as planned – outstanding activities are clearing minor outstanding items with safety bodies and exchanging paperwork (gauging certificates, final versions of track access contract) between the various parties involved.

3. Having queried the next BT milestone (ISA Approval for the ETCS element necessary for Stage 3 ie CBTC) BT have come back this morning saying 'sorry, were actually approving the updated version (2.1 not 2.0) so date is 11 June not 22 May'. Not clever but they assure me it has no knock on elsewhere in the programme. I've included a new bullet 8 and changed the date in the forecast.

Felt these are important and do need to go in this week, apologies for timing.

If we're ready to report, then my feeling is that we should include them. I understand we're not ready to report the P01 cost numbers.

Sylvia, I'm happy to transfer the numbers over the weekend so they are ready first thing on Monday if that helps.

For some reasons I thought the CRL Board was on the 24th. If on the 18th, does that mean the CRL Board report was circulated today to board members?

Richard

Hi Lucy,

If we have the P01 dates as per the spreadsheet shared this morning, shouldn't we put them in Appendix A?

Let me know your thoughts.

Richard

Hi Sylvia

Sorry for radio silence. Been finalising a bunch of documents over here.

Thing is Appendix A in the briefing note from you earlier hasn't had the actual/forecast dates updated for Period 1 so shouldn't have the header changed yet.

In the attached, I've left the dates alone for now but added commentary in the critical path risk/RAG items where they're now red or amber.

Looks a bit of a mess though as track changes on colour fill cells goes a bit weird – if you put it on original show mark up that might help?

Hope you can make sense of it.

Lucy

Hi Lucy,

Minor catch from me – update to introductory text for Appendix A:

Appendix A: Key milestones from MOHS 2018 schedule by Stage and key issues including change since last period. The latest available dates are from Period 01 (up to 28 April 2018).

Also – can you swap in this text for paragraph 3.3?

3.3 The forecast cost for Network Rail’s delivery of the On Network Works (ONW) remains unchanged at £2,530m, against the original budget of £2,300m. Under the Crossrail agreements, this cost overrun is a DfT held risk. NR has indicated further risks in the range of £250m with a funding request of £150m to be funded from NR contingency.

Thank you

Richard

Hi all,

Sorry for the delay today but attached is the briefing note which includes the RAG updates to Appendix A. Can you please review this and inform me of any comments asap before I get it to Mike’s office.

Thanks,

Sylvia

---
Here's the proposed Appendix A.

The RAG status column is entitled Critical path risk ie judgement has been applied to whether the variance to MOHS18 baseline date is a risk to critical paths.

Have I missed Appendix A (the RAG status)? I think Lucy said this was to follow and my comments will probably be based largely on this – specifically where we are showing dates at risk what they mean or don’t mean in terms of risks going forward and what is being done about them. Will provide some further wording re Stage 2 but much better once I’ve completed meetings in the next 4 hours or so – all about Stage 2. Richard - to set expectations the risks will not have been closed out 100% there are still activities and documents to complete next week – as always with these things.

3. Having queried the next BT milestone (ISA Approval for the ETCS element necessary for Stage 3 ie CBTO) BT have come back this morning saying ‘sorry, were actually approving the updated version (2.1 not 2.0) so date is 11 June not 22 May’. Not clever but they assure me it has no knock on elsewhere in the programme. I’ve included a new bullet 8 and changed the date in the forecast.

Felt these are important and do need to go in this week, apologies for timing.

If we’re ready to report, then my feeling is that we should include them. I understand we’re not ready to report the P01 cost numbers.

Sylvia, I’m happy to transfer the numbers over the weekend so they are ready first thing on Monday if that helps.
For some reasons I thought the CRL Board was on the 24th. If on the 18th, does that mean the CRL Board report was circulated today to board members?

Hi Sylvia

Sorry for radio silence. Been finalising a bunch of documents over here.

Thing is Appendix A in the briefing note from you earlier hasn't had the actual/forecast dates updated for Period 1 so shouldn't have the header changed yet.

In the attached, I've left the dates alone for now but added commentary in the critical path risk/RAG items where they're now red or amber.

Looks a bit of a mess though as track changes on colour fill cells goes a bit weird – if you put it on original show mark up that might help?

Hope you can make sense of it.

Hi Sylvia,

Minor catch from me – update to introductory text for Appendix A:

Appendix A: Key milestones from MOHS 2018 schedule by Stage and key issues including change since last period. The latest available dates are from Period 01 (up to 28 April 2018).

Also – can you swap in this text for paragraph 3.3?

3.3 The forecast cost for Network Rail’s delivery of the On Network Works (ONW) remains unchanged at £2,530m, against the original budget of £2,300m. Under the Crossrail agreements, this cost overrun is a DfT held risk. NR has indicated further risks in the range of £250m with a funding request of £150m to be funded from NR contingency.

Have I missed Appendix A (the RAG status)? I think Lucy said this was to follow and my comments will probably be based largely on this – specifically where we are showing dates at risk what they mean or don’t mean in terms of risks going forward and what is being done about them.

Will provide some further wording re Stage 2 but much better once I’ve completed meetings in the next 4 hours or so – all about Stage 2. Richard - to set expectations the risks will not have been closed out 100% there are still activities and documents to complete next week – as always with these things.

Howard I’ve included a para on Stage 2 readiness and reinserted some verbage about checkpoints in the last para – I’d be grateful if you could review. Very happy to receive suggestions of other things to include

Testing in the tunnels between Canary Wharf and Woolwich recommenced on 11 May. Specific tests over the three testing days included platform screen door/train interfaces, DOO CCTV images from the platforms to the trains, radio coverage as well as mileage accumulation and line speed operation.

Final preparations are being made in advance of TFL Rail services commencing on 20 May between Paddington and Heathrow. Work includes minor gauge clearance activity at Paddington by Network Rail and signalling commissioning at Old Oak Common.

Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation continued last week. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7 and 12 June. There has been a small delay to the power on sequence from Westbourne Park but it still supports the start of testing in that June testing window.

At stations, a range of work continues including:

- The installation of mechanical and electrical equipment at Paddington
- At Bond Street, lift installation on the western ticket hall
- At Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel, readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power
- At Farringdon, completing platform tiling
- At Liverpool Street, installation of an incline lift
- At Woolwich, the completion of escalator and lift installation

The provision of asset data, operation and maintenance manuals and training materials by contractors remains challenging. This is needed to support the handover and bringing into use of the railway. Crossrail Ltd is applying pressure on contractors to provide materials to meet training and handover plans. CRL is also working with LU and RfL to prioritise the production schedule.

There is a significant volume of safety assurance and approvals required in order to support increasingly complex aspects of dynamic testing and ultimately bring the railway into safe operation. The rate of submissions to the safety assurance bodies needs to increase and CRL has secured additional resource to assist with this as well as establishing new weekly metrics and a daily focus on required deliverables.

CRL, working with the future Infrastructure Managers (IMS), maintainers and operators has agreed the approach to evaluating each area’s readiness for trial running, trial operations and passenger service in December 2018. A detailed tracker containing all the activities needed for these three major milestones has been agreed as well as three formal checkpoints in June, July and October to assess readiness.

Thanks, skimming through this whilst waiting at OOC for Perm Sec visit. Quick observations:

1. I issued updated RSD report yesterday evening

2. Para 2.4 and 2.5 of the Headlines section remain as valid as ever. Some progress on asset data in the week, training mixed and CRL assurance submissions to RAB-C looms as large as ever. Actions in place but right to keep these front and centre.

3. Good - in terms of avoiding surprises - if some of the greens could be Ambered (easier once we have the full countdown metrics in place next week) certainly the trains ones for trial running and trial ops I’d say are amber (we won’t have staff trained on shafts and portals for instance - we are focused on route way) and I would have thought the assurance ones (not many when you look down the list) are under pressure although the RfLi approval will likely come though on time or even early (but thats saying we have a good system as an IM not how things are going in terms of taking things over).

Hope that helps, I’m back in the office PM.

Sylvia, Andy and colleagues,

Quick Monday morning update to Friday’s draft (all in track changes).

1. I’ve added some cautious words about the testing last Thursday-Sunday. There were a number of issues, so, as I’ve noted several tests will need to be repeated in two weeks time. In themselves they are not huge but add to a backlog so I think we have to nuance the wording as the Friday version could be read as implying we are comfortable/on plan in terms of testing and we are not.

2. I haven’t changed the next para re Stage 2 Phase 1. I’ve had a roundup this morning of works over the weekend as well as the MTR catch up on Friday and I think the wording stands. Everyone expecting to go ahead on Sunday as planned – outstanding activities are clearing minor outstanding items with safety bodies and exchanging paperwork (gauging certificates, final versions of track access contract) between the various parties involved.

3. Having queried the next BT milestone (ISA Approval for the ETCS element necessary for Stage 3 ie CBT1) BT have come back this morning saying ‘sorry, were actually approving the updated version (2.1 not 2.0) so date is 11 June not 22 May’. Not clever but they assure me it has no knock on elsewhere in the programme. I’ve included a new bullet 8 and changed the date in the forecast.

Felt these are important and do need to go in this week, apologies for timing.

The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7-12 June. The next set of train testing activities between Canary Wharf and Woolwich will take place 10-14 May.

At stations a range of work continues including; Paddington installation of mechanical and electrical equipment; Bond Street western ticket hall lift installation; Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power-ons; Farringdon completing platform tiling; Liverpool Street installation of incline lift; and Woolwich completion of escalator and lift installation.

Network Rail undertook important Crossrail work over the bank holiday weekend including further enabling station works at Ealing Broadway, Southall, Acton Main Line and Hayes & Harlington.

In themselves they are not huge but add to a backlog so I think we have to nuance the wording as the Friday version could be read as implying we are comfortable/on plan in terms of testing and we are not.

Not clever but they assure me it has no knock on elsewhere in the programme. I’ve included a new bullet 8 and changed the date in the forecast.

If we’re ready to report, then my feeling is that we should include them. I understand we’re not ready to report the P01 cost numbers.

Sylvia, I’m happy to transfer the numbers over the weekend so they are ready first thing on Monday if that helps.

For some reasons I thought the CRL Board was on the 24th. If on the 18th, does that mean the CRL Board report was circulated today to board members?

I don’t mind. Whichever option is easiest for Sylvia.

My hesitation on updating the dates now would be then we’re reporting Period 1 for milestones but won’t report period 1 for costs until after CRL Board 18 May.
Hi Lucy,

If we have the P01 dates as per the spreadsheet shared this morning, shouldn’t we put them in Appendix A?

Let me know your thoughts.

Hi Sylvia

Sorry for radio silence. Been finalising a bunch of documents over here. Thing is Appendix A in the briefing note from you earlier hasn’t had the actual/forecast dates updated for Period 1 so shouldn’t have the header changed yet. In the attached, I’ve left the dates alone for now but added commentary in the critical path risk/RAG items where they’re now red or amber. Looks a bit of a mess though as track changes on colour fill cells goes a bit weird – if you put it on original show mark up that might help?

Hope you can make sense of it.

Hi Sylvia,

Minor catch from me – update to introductory text for Appendix A:

Appendix A: Key milestones from MOHS 2018 schedule by Stage and key issues including change since last period. The latest available dates are from Period 01 (up to 28 April 2018).

Also – can you swap in this text for paragraph 3.3?

3.3 The forecast cost for Network Rail’s delivery of the On Network Works (ONW) remains unchanged at £2,530m, against the original budget of £2,300m. Under the Crossrail agreements, this cost overrun is a DfT held risk. NR has indicated further risks in the range of £200m with a funding request of £500m to be funded from NR contingency.

Thank you

Richard

Hi Lucy

Have I missed Appendix A (the RAG status)? I think Lucy said this was to follow and my comments will probably be based largely on this – specifically where we are showing dates at risk what they mean or don’t mean in terms of risks going forward and what is being done about them. Will provide some further wording re Stage 2 but much better once I've completed meetings in the next 4 hours or so – all about Stage 2. Richard - to set expectations the risks will not have been closed out 100% there are still activities and documents to complete next week – as always with these things.

Howard I’ve included a para on Stage 2 readiness and reinccluded some verbage about checkpoints in the last para – I’d be grateful if you could review. Very happy to receive suggestions of other things to include

Testing in the tunnels between Canary Wharf and Woolwich recommenced on 11 May. Specific tests over the three testing days included platform screen door/train interfaces, DOO CCTV images from the platforms to the trains, radio coverage as well as mileage accumulation and line speed operation. Final preparations are being made in advance of TfL Rail services commencing on 20 May between Paddington and Heathrow. Work includes minor gauge clearance activity at Paddington by Network Rail and signalling commissioning at Old Oak Common. Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation continued last week. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7 and 12 June. There has been a small delay to the power on sequence from Westbourne Park but it still supports the start of testing in that June testing window.

At stations, a range of work continues including:

- The installation of mechanical and electrical equipment at Paddington
- At Bond Street, lift installation on the western ticket hall
- At Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel, readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power
- At Farringdon, completing platform tiling
- At Liverpool Street, installation of an incline lift
- At Woolwich, the completion of escalator and lift installation

The provision of asset data, operation and maintenance manuals and training materials by contractors remains challenging. This is needed to support the handover and bringing into use of the railway. Crossrail Ltd is applying pressure on contractors to provide materials to meet training and handover plans. CRL is also working with LU and RfL to prioritise the production schedule.

There is a significant volume of safety assurance and approvals required in order to support increasingly complex aspects of dynamic testing and ultimately bring the railway into safe operation. The rate of submissions to the safety assurance bodies needs to increase and CRL has secured additional resource to assist with this as well as establishing new weekly metrics and a daily focus on required deliverables.

CRL, working with the future Infrastructure Managers (IMS), maintainers and operators has agreed the approach to evaluating each area’s readiness for trial running, trial operations and passenger service in December 2018. A detailed tracker containing all the activities needed for these three major milestones has been agreed as well as three formal checkpoints in June, July and October to assess readiness.

1. I issued updated RSD report yesterday evening
2. Para 2.4 and 2.5 of the Headlines section remain as valid as ever. Some progress on asset data in the week, training mixed and CRL assurance submissions to RAB-C looms as large as ever. Actions in place but right to keep these front and centre.
3. Good - in terms of avoiding surprises - if some of the greens could be Ambered (easier once we have the full countdown metrics in place next week) certainly the trains ones for trial running and trial ops I’d say are amber (we wont have staff trained on shafts and portals for instance - we are focused on routeway) and I would have thought the assurance ones (not many when you look down the list) are under pressure although the RfL approval will likely come though on time or even early (but thats saying we have a good system as an IM not how things are going in terms of taking things over).

Hope that helps, I’m back in the office PM.

We’d like some more information on the reporting of funding, specifically about key upcoming dates we need to be aware of. I raised this a couple of weeks ago and I’m hoping that there is more certainty now.

First, do we have a confirmed date yet for when the semi-annual construction report will be submitted? Also, I know I’ve asked this before, but can I double check that this will not be published in the public domain at this stage?

Secondly, in the recent Mayor’s meeting with the SoS it was agreed that there would be a joint public statement ahead of the SoS’s statement to Parliament in June. Have there been any further discussions about agreeing a date for this?

And do we have a confirmed date for the SoS’s statement to Parliament?

Hi Sylvia, Lucy,

I have tracked my changes on the attached document for the cost section and have included text to respond to Val’s questions below.

I have also included some comments within Appendix A where we may consider adding some text to explain potential pressures where the status is Green in advance of potentially getting more amber ratings within the P1 update. Are we on track for this following the CRL internal review last week?

Echoing Howard’s comments last week we should aim to reduce any surprises in the reports.

Thank you

Richard

We’d like some more information on the reporting of funding, specifically about key upcoming dates we need to be aware of. I raised this a couple of weeks ago and I’m hoping that there is more certainty now.

First, do we have a confirmed date yet for when the semi-annual construction report will be submitted? Also, I know I’ve asked this before, but can I double check that this will not be published in the public domain at this stage?

Secondly, in the recent Mayor’s meeting with the SoS it was agreed that there would be a joint public statement ahead of the SoS’s statement to Parliament in June. Have there been any further discussions about agreeing a date for this? And do we have a confirmed date for the SoS’s statement to Parliament?

I’ve included a sentence on NR activity over this coming weekend – again at this point I’m having to guess a bit.....
Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation recommenced on 30 April after the train testing phase. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7-12 June. The next set of train testing activities between Canary Wharf and Woolwich will take place 10-14 May.

At stations a range of work continues including: Paddington installation of mechanical and electrical equipment; Bond Street western ticket hall lift installation; Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power-ons; Farringdon completing platform tiling; Liverpool Street installation of incline lift; and Woolwich completion of escalator and lift installation.

Network Rail undertook important Crossrail work over the bank holiday weekend including further enabling station works at Ealing Broadway, Southall, Acton Main Line and Hayes & Harlington.

Sylvia, Andy and colleagues,

Quick Monday morning update to Friday’s draft (all in track changes).

1. I’ve added some cautious words about the testing last Thursday-Sunday. There were a number of issues, so, as I’ve noted several tests will need to be repeated in two weeks time. In themselves they are not huge but add to a backlog so I think we have to nuance the wording as the Friday version could be read as implying we are comfortable/on plan in terms of testing and we are not.

2. I haven’t changed the next para re Stage 2 Phase 1. I’ve had a roundup this morning of works over the weekend as well as the MTR catch up on Friday and I think the wording stands. Everyone expecting to go ahead on Sunday as planned – outstanding activities are clearing minor outstanding items with safety bodies and exchanging paperwork (gauging certificates, final versions of track access contract) between the various parties involved.

3. Having queried the next BT milestone (ISA Approval for the ETCS element necessary for Stage 3 ie CBTC) BT have come back this morning saying ‘sorry, were actually approving the updated version (2.1 not 2.0) so date is 11 June not 22 May’. Not clever but they assure me it has no knock on elsewhere in the programme. I’ve included a new bullet 8 and changed the date in the forecast.

Felt these are important and do need to go in this week, apologies for timing.

Howard

Hi Lucy,

If we have the P01 dates as per the spreadsheet shared this morning, shouldn’t we put them in Appendix A?

Let me know your thoughts.

Hi Sylvia

Sorry for radio silence. Been finalising a bunch of documents over here.

Thing is Appendix A in the briefing note from you earlier hasn’t had the actual/forecast dates updated for Period 1 so shouldn’t have the header changed yet.

In the attached, I’ve left the dates alone for now but added commentary in the critical path risk/RAG items where they’re now red or amber.

Looks a bit of a mess though as track changes on colour fill cells goes a bit weird – if you put it on original show mark up that might help?

Hope you can make sense of it.

Hi Sylvia,

Minor catch from me – update to introductory text for Appendix A:

Appendix A: Key milestones from MOHS 2018 schedule by Stage and key issues including change since last period. The latest available dates are from Period 01 (up to 28 April 2018).

Also – can you swap in this text for paragraph 3.3?

3.3 The forecast cost for Network Rail’s delivery of the On Network Works (ONW) remains unchanged at £2,530m, against the original budget of £2,300m. Under the Crossrail agreements, this cost overrun is a DfT held risk. NR has indicated further risks in the range of [ ] with a funding request of [ ] to be funded from NR contingency.

Thank you

The RAG status column is entitled Critical path risk ie judgement has been applied to whether the variance to MOHS18 baseline date is a risk to critical paths.

Have I missed Appendix A (the RAG status)? I think Lucy said this was to follow and my comments will probably be based largely on this – specifically where we are showing dates at risk what they mean or don’t mean in terms of risks going forward and what is being done about them.

Will provide some further wording re Stage 2 but much better once I’ve completed meetings in the next 4 hours or so – all about Stage 2. Richard - to set expectations the risks will not have been closed out 100% there are still activities and documents to complete next week – as always with these things.

Testing in the tunnels between Canary Wharf and Woolwich recommenced on 11 May. Specific tests over the three testing days included platform screen door/train interfaces, DOO CCTV images from the platforms to the trains, radio coverage as well as mileage accumulation and line speed operation.

Final preparations are being made in advance of TfL Rail services commencing on 20 May between Paddington and Heathrow. Work includes minor gauge clearance activity at Paddington by Network Rail and signalling commissioning at Old Oak Common.

Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation continued last week. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7 and 12 June. There has been a small delay to the power on sequence from Westbourne Park but it still supports the start of testing in that June testing window.

At stations, a range of work continues including:

- The installation of mechanical and electrical equipment at Paddington
- At Bond Street, lift installation on the western ticket hall
- At Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel, readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power
- At Farringdon, completing platform tiling
- At Liverpool Street, installation of an incline lift
- At Woolwich, the completion of escalator and lift installation

The provision of asset data, operation and maintenance manuals and training materials by contractors remains challenging. This is needed to support the handover and bringing into use of the railway. Crossrail Ltd is applying pressure on contractors to provide materials to meet training and handover plans. CRL is also working with LU and RfL to prioritise the production schedule.

There is a significant volume of safety assurance and approvals required in order to support increasingly complex aspects of dynamic testing and ultimately bring the railway into safe operation. The rate of submissions to the safety assurance bodies needs to increase and CRL has secured additional resource to assist with this as well as establishing new weekly metrics and a daily focus on required deliverables.
CRL, working with the future Infrastructure Managers (IMS), maintainers and operators has agreed the approach to evaluating each area’s readiness for trial running, trial operations and passenger service in December 2018. A detailed tracker containing all the activities needed for these three major milestones has been agreed as well as three formal checkpoints in June, July and October to assess readiness.

Thanks, skimming through this whilst waiting at OOC for Perm Sec visit. Quick observations:
1. I issued updated RSD report yesterday evening
2. Para 2.4 and 2.5 of the Headlines section remain as valid as ever. Some progress on asset data in the week, training mixed and CRL assurance submissions to RAB-C looms as large as ever. Actions in place but right to keep these front and centre.
3. Good - in terms of avoiding surprises - if some of the greens could be Ambered (easier once we have the full countdown metrics in place next week) certainly the trains ones for trial running and trial ops I’d say are amber (we wont have staff trained on shafts and portals for instance - we are focused on routeway) and I would have thought the assurance ones (not many when you look down the list) are under pressure although the RfLi approval will likely come though on time or even early (but thats saying we have a good system as an IM not how things are going in terms of taking things over). Hope that helps, I’m back in the office PM.

We’d like some more information on the reporting of funding, specifically about key upcoming dates we need to be aware of. I raised this a couple of weeks ago and I’m hoping that there is more certainty now.

First, do we have a confirmed date yet for when the semi-annual construction report will be submitted? Also, I know I’ve asked this before, but can I double check that this will not be published in the public domain at this stage?

Secondly, in the recent Mayor’s meeting with the SoS it was agreed that there would be a joint public statement ahead of the SoS’s statement to Parliament in June. Have there been any further discussions about agreeing a date for this? And do we have a confirmed date for the SoS’s statement to Parliament?

Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation recommenced on 30 April after the train testing phase. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7-12 June. The next set of train testing activities between Canary Wharf and Woolwich will take place 10-14 May.

At stations a range of work continues including: Paddington installation of mechanical and electrical equipment; Bond Street western ticket hall lift installation; Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power-ons; Farringdon completing platform tiling; Liverpool Street installation of incline lift; and Woolwich completion of escalator and lift installation
Network Rail undertook important Crossrail work over the bank holiday weekend including further enabling station works at Ealing Broadway, Southall, Acton Main Line and Hayes & Harlington.

Hi all,

Attached is the current version of the briefing I’ve sent over to Andy and his team. Richard, if the note with the P1 figures isn’t going to Board members until next Friday, should we not wait to include the update in next week’s version?

Thanks Lucy,

If we’re ready to report, then my feeling is that we should include them. I understand we’re not ready to report the P01 cost numbers.

Sylvia, I’m happy to transfer the numbers over the weekend so they are ready first thing on Monday if that helps.

For some reasons I thought the CRL Board was on the 24th. If on the 18th, does that mean the CRL Board report was circulated today to board members?

Hi Sylvia

Sorry for radio silence. Been finalising a bunch of documents over here.

Thing is Appendix A in the briefing note from you earlier hasn’t had the actual/forecast dates updated for Period 1 so shouldn’t have the header changed yet.

In the attached, I’ve left the dates alone for now but added commentary in the critical path risk/RAG items where they’re now red or amber.

Looks a bit of a mess though as track changes on colour fill cells goes a bit weird – if you put it on original show mark up that might help?

Hope you can make sense of it.

Hi Sylvia,

Minor catch from me – update to introductory text for Appendix A:

Appendix A: Key milestones from MOHS 2018 schedule by Stage and key issues including change since last period. The latest available dates are from Period 01 (up to 28 April 2018).

Also – can you swap in this text for paragraph 3.3?

3.3 The forecast cost for Network Rail’s delivery of the On Network Works (ONW) remains unchanged at £2,530m, against the original budget of £2,300m. Under the Crossrail agreements, this cost overrun is a DfT held risk. NR has indicated further risks in the range of [redacted] with a funding request of [redacted] to be funded from NR contingency.

Thank you

Have I missed Appendix A (the RAG status)? I think Lucy said this was to follow and my comments will probably be based largely on this – specifically where we are showing dates at risk what they mean or don’t mean in terms of risks going forward and what is being done about them.

Will provide some further wording re Stage 2 but much better once I’ve completed meetings in the next 4 hours or so – all about Stage 2. Richard - to set expectations the risks will not have been closed out 100% there are still activities and documents to complete next week – as always with these things.

Testing in the tunnels between Canary Wharf and Woolwich recommenced on 11 May. Specific tests over the three testing days included platform screen door/train interfaces, DOO CCTV images from the platforms to the trains, radio coverage as well as mileage accumulation and line speed operation. Final preparations are being made in advance of TfL Rail services commencing on 20 May between Paddington and Heathrow. Work includes minor gauge clearance activity at Paddington by Network Rail and signalling commissioning at Old Oak Common. Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation continued last week. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7 and 12 June. There has been a small delay to the power on sequence from Westbourne Park but it still supports the start of testing in that June testing window.

At stations, a range of work continues including:

- The installation of mechanical and electrical equipment at Paddington
- At Bond Street, lift installation on the western ticket hall
- At Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel, readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power
- At Farringdon, completing platform tiling
- At Liverpool Street, installation of an incline lift
- At Woolwich, the completion of escalator and lift installation

The provision of asset data, operation and maintenance manuals and training materials by contractors remains challenging. This is needed to support the handover and bringing into use of the railway. Crossrail Ltd is applying pressure on contractors to provide materials to meet training and handover plans. CRL is also working with LU and RfL to prioritise the production schedule.

There is a significant volume of safety assurance and approvals required in order to support increasingly complex aspects of dynamic testing and ultimately bring the railway into safe operation. The rate of submissions to the safety assurance bodies needs to increase and CRL has secured additional resource to assist with this as well as establishing new weekly metrics and a daily focus on required deliverables. CRL, working with the Future Infrastructure Managers (FIMs), maintainers and operators has agreed the approach to evaluating each area’s readiness for trial running, trial operations and passenger service in December 2018. A detailed tracker containing all the activities needed for these three major milestones has been agreed as well as three formal checkpoints in June, July and October to assess readiness.

Thanks, skimming through this whilst waiting at OOC for Perm Sec visit. Quick observations:
1. I issued updated RSD report yesterday evening
2. Para 2.4 and 2.5 of the Headlines section remain as valid as ever. Some progress on asset data in the week, training mixed and CRL assurance submissions to RAB-C looms as large as ever. Actions in place but right to keep these front and centre.
3. Good - in terms of avoiding surprises - if some of the greens could be Ambered (easier once we have the full countdown metrics in place next week) certainly the trains ones for trial running and trial ops I’d say are amber (we wont have staff trained on shafts and portals for instance - we are focused on routeway) and I would have thought the assurance ones (not many when you look down the list) are under pressure although the RfLi approval will likely come though on time or even early (but thats saying we have a good system as an IM not how things are going in terms of taking things over).

Hope that helps, I’m back in the office PM.

Hi all,

Sorry for the delay today but attached is the briefing note which includes the RAG updates to Appendix A. Can you please review this and inform me of any comments asap before I get it to Mike’s office.

Here’s the proposed Appendix A.
The RAG status column is entitled Critical path risk ie judgement has been applied to whether the variance to MOHS18 baseline date is a risk to critical paths.

Have I missed Appendix A (the RAG status)? I think Lucy said this was to follow and my comments will probably be based largely on this – specifically where we are showing dates at risk what they mean or don’t mean in terms of risks going forward and what is being done about them.

Will provide some further wording re Stage 2 but much better once I’ve completed meetings in the next 4 hours or so – all about Stage 2. Richard - to set expectations the risks will not have been closed out 100% there are still activities and documents to complete next week – as always with these things.

Howard I’ve included a para on Stage 2 readiness and reincluded some verbage about checkpoints in the last para – I’d be grateful if you could review. Very happy to receive suggestions of other things to include

Testing in the tunnels between Canary Wharf and Woolwich recommenced on 11 May. Specific tests over the three testing days included platform screen door/train interfaces, DOO CCTV images from the platforms to the trains, radio coverage as well as mileage accumulation and line speed operation. Final preparations are being made in advance of TfL Rail services commencing on 20 May between Paddington and Heathrow. Work includes minor gauge clearance activity at Paddington by Network Rail and signalling commissioning at Old Oak Common.

Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation continued last week. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7 and 12 June. There has been a small delay to the power on sequence from Westbourne Park but it still supports the start of testing in that June testing window.
At stations, a range of work continues including:

- The installation of mechanical and electrical equipment at Paddington
- At Bond Street, lift installation on the western ticket hall
- At Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel, readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power
- At Farringdon, completing platform tiling
- At Liverpool Street, installation of an incline lift
- At Woolwich, the completion of escalator and lift installation

The provision of asset data, operation and maintenance manuals and training materials by contractors remains challenging. This is needed to support the handover and bringing into use of the railway. Crossrail Ltd is applying pressure on contractors to provide materials to meet training and handover plans. CRL is also working with LU and RfL to prioritise the production schedule.

There is a significant volume of safety assurance and approvals required in order to support increasingly complex aspects of dynamic testing and ultimately bring the railway into safe operation. The rate of submissions to the safety assurance bodies needs to increase and CRL has secured additional resource to assist with this as well as establishing new weekly metrics and a daily focus on required deliverables. CRL, working with the future Infrastructure Managers (IMS), maintainers and operators has agreed the approach to evaluating each area’s readiness for trial running, trial operations and passenger service in December 2018. A detailed tracker containing all the activities needed for these three major milestones has been agreed as well as three formal checkpoints in June, July and October to assess readiness.

I think Howard was proposing you reinclude paras 2.4 and 2.5 from last week’s briefing as they remain current? I’m not sure how you feel on reincluding stuff or whether you want new things each week or items that were in the week before that have changed and therefore should be mentioned again? Your call.

Lucy
2. Para 2.4 and 2.5 of the Headlines section remain as valid as ever. Some progress on asset data in the week, training mixed and CRL assurance submissions to RAB-C looms as large as ever. Actions in place but right to keep these front and centre.

3. Good - in terms of avoiding surprises - if some of the greens could be Ambered (easier once we have the full countdown metrics in place next week) certainly the trains ones for trial running and trial ops I’d say are amber (we wont have staff trained on shafts and portals for instance - we are focused on routeway) and I would have thought the assurance ones (not many when you look down the list) are under pressure although the RfLi approval will likely come though on time or even early (but thats saying we have a good system as an IM not how things are going in terms of taking things over).

Hope that helps, I’m back in the office PM.

We’d like some more information on the reporting of funding, specifically about key upcoming dates we need to be aware of. I raised this a couple of weeks ago and I’m hoping that there is more certainty now.

First, do we have a confirmed date yet for when the semi-annual construction report will be submitted? Also, I know I’ve asked this before, but can I double check that this will not be published in the public domain at this stage?

Secondly, in the recent Mayor’s meeting with the SoS it was agreed that there would be a joint public statement ahead of the SoS’s statement to Parliament in June. Have there been any further discussions about agreeing a date for this? And do we have a confirmed date for the SoS’s statement to Parliament?

I’ve included a sentence on NR activity over this coming weekend – again at this point I’m having to guess a bit…..

Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation recommenced on 30 April after the train testing phase. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7-12 June. The next set of train testing activities between Canary Wharf and Woolwich will take place 10-14 May.

Network Rail undertook important Crossrail work over the bank holiday weekend including further enabling station works at Ealing Broadway, Southall, Acton Main Line and Hayes & Harlington.

Test window question:
Short answer is yes the window does have enough time to accommodate the deferred tests.
More complicated answer, that's because other tests planned for window 3 (next window) won't be ready so it's actually being cut from two days to one for lack of work.
Suggest stick with short answer for now.

The "Critical path RAG" being used now is a judgement against critical path impact rather than a RAG purely based on variance from MOHS baseline date which is why several have changed RAG status
GSM-R milestone should be -21 days (the MOHS 18 baseline date had been used in error in one of our tables).

Sylvia, Andy and colleagues,
Quick Monday morning update to Friday’s draft (all in track changes).

1. I’ve added some cautious words about the testing last Thursday-Sunday. There were a number of issues, so, as I’ve noted several tests will need to be repeated in two weeks time. In themselves they are not huge but add to a backlog so I think we have to nuance the wording as the Friday version could be read as implying we are comfortable/on plan in terms of testing and we are not.

2. I haven’t changed the next para re Stage 2 Phase 1. I’ve had a roundup this morning of works over the weekend as well as the MTR catch up on Friday and I think the wording stands. Everyone expecting to go ahead on Sunday as planned – outstanding activities are clearing minor outstanding items with safety bodies and exchanging paperwork (gauging certificates, final versions of track access contract) between the various parties involved.

3. Having queried the next BT milestone (ISA Approval for the ETCS element necessary for Stage 3 ie CBTC) BT have come back this morning saying ‘sorry, were actually approving the updated version (2.1 not 2.0) so date is 11 June not 22 May’. Not clever but they assure me it has no knock on elsewhere in the programme. I’ve included a new bullet 8 and changed the date in the forecast.

Felt these are important and do need to go in this week, apologies for timing.

If we’re ready to report, then my feeling is that we should include them. I understand we’re not ready to report the P01 cost numbers.

Sylvia, I’m happy to transfer the numbers over the weekend so they are ready first thing on Monday if that helps.

For some reasons I thought the CRL Board was on the 24th. If on the 18th, does that mean the CRL Board report was circulated today to board members?

Richard

From: Lucy Findlay [mailto: crossrail.co.uk]
I don't mind. Whichever option is easiest for Sylvia.

My hesitation on updating the dates now would be then we're reporting Period 1 for milestones but won't report period 1 for costs until after CRL Board 18 May.

Lucy

If we have the P01 dates as per the spreadsheet shared this morning, shouldn't we put them in Appendix A?

Let me know your thoughts.

Richard

Sorry for radio silence. Been finalising a bunch of documents over here.

Thing is Appendix A in the briefing note from you earlier hasn't had the actual/forecast dates updated for Period 1 so shouldn't have the header changed yet.

In the attached, I've left the dates alone for now but added commentary in the critical path risk/RAG items where they're now red or amber.

Looks a bit of a mess though as track changes on colour fill cells goes a bit weird – if you put it on original show mark up that might help?

Hope you can make sense of it.

Lucy

Minor catch from me – update to introductory text for Appendix A:

Appendix A: Key milestones from MOHS 2018 schedule by Stage and key issues including change since last period. The latest available dates are from Period 01 (up to 28 April 2018).

Also – can you swap in this text for paragraph 3.3?

3.3 The forecast cost for Network Rail’s delivery of the On Network Works (ONW) remains unchanged at £2,530m, against the original budget of £2,300m. Under the Crossrail agreements, this cost overrun is a DfT held risk. NR has indicated further risks in the range of £250m with a funding request of £50m to be funded from NR contingency.

Thank you

Richard

Sorry for the delay today but attached is the briefing note which includes the RAG updates to Appendix A. Can you please review this and inform me of any comments asap before I get it to Mike’s office.

Thanks,

Sylvia

Here's the proposed Appendix A.

The RAG status column is entitled Critical path risk ie judgement has been applied to whether the variance to MOHS18 baseline date is a risk to critical paths.

Have I missed Appendix A (the RAG status)? I think Lucy said this was to follow and my comments will probably be based largely on this – specifically where we are showing dates at risk what they mean or don’t mean in terms of risks going forward and what is being done about them.

Will provide some further wording re Stage 2 but much better once I’ve completed meetings in the next 4 hours or so – all about Stage 2. Richard - to set expectations the risks will not have been closed out 100% there are still activities and documents to complete next week – as always with these things.

Testing in the tunnels between Canary Wharf and Woolwich recommenced on 11 May. Specific tests over the three testing days included platform screen door/train interfaces, DOO CCTV images from the platforms to the trains, radio coverage as well as mileage accumulation and line speed operation.

Final preparations are being made in advance of Tfl Rail services commencing on 20 May between Paddington and Heathrow. Work includes minor gauge clearance activity at Paddington by Network Rail and signalling commissioning at Old Oak Common.

Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation continued last week. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7 and 12 June. There has been a small delay to the power on sequence from Westbourne Park but it still supports the start of testing in that June testing window.

At stations, a range of work continues including:

- The installation of mechanical and electrical equipment at Paddington
- At Bond Street, lift installation on the western ticket hall
- At Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel, readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power
- At Farringdon, completing platform tiling
- At Liverpool Street, installation of an incline lift
- At Woolwich, the completion of escalator and lift installation
The provision of asset data, operation and maintenance manuals and training materials by contractors remains challenging. This is needed to support the handover and bringing into use of the railway. Crossrail Ltd is applying pressure on contractors to provide materials to meet training and handover plans. CRL is also working with LU and RfL to prioritise the production schedule.

There is a significant volume of safety assurance and approvals required in order to support increasingly complex aspects of dynamic testing and ultimately bring the railway into safe operation. The rate of submissions to the safety assurance bodies needs to increase and CRL has secured additional resource to assist with this as well as establishing new weekly metrics and a daily focus on required deliverables.

CRL, working with the future Infrastructure Managers (IMS), maintainers and operators has agreed the approach to evaluating each area’s readiness for trial running, trial operations and passenger service in December 2018. A detailed tracker containing all the activities needed for these three major milestones has been agreed as well as three formal checkpoints in June, July and October to assess readiness.

1. I issued updated RSD report yesterday evening
2. Para 2.4 and 2.5 of the Headlines section remain as valid as ever. Some progress on asset data in the week, training mixed and CRL assurance submissions to RAB-C looms as large as ever. Actions in place but right to keep these front and centre.
3. Good - in terms of avoiding surprises - if some of the greens could be Ambered (easier once we have the full countdown metrics in place next week) certainly the trains ones for trial running and trial ops I’d say are amber [we won’t have staff trained on shafts and portals for instance - we are focused on routeway] and I would have thought the assurance ones (not many when you look down the list) are under pressure although the RfLi approval will likely come though on time or even early (but thats saying we have a good

We’d like some more information on the reporting of funding, specifically about key upcoming dates we need to be aware of. I raised this a couple of weeks ago
and I’m hoping that there is more certainty now.

First, do we have a confirmed date yet for when the semi-annual construction report will be submitted? Also, I know I’ve asked this before, but can I double check that this will not be published in the public domain.

Richard,

1. Final-Final BT Report attached (only change from BT over weekend is 45 units completed rather than 44).
2. Good to note ‘Amber’ process (thanks Lucy) – suspect there will be a number of these next week (or week after) so good to flag it.
3. Just thinking ahead for the next report (not this one) we should note the T minus and checkpoint process – particularly the checkpoint dates as these may be useful to have in City Hall’s mind.
4. Pedantry but suggest we remove the sentence in red under Dynamic Testing re Door Testing to commence on 26/4. As it’s red but 26/4 is ahead of 9/5 it’s likely this will be questioned by City Hall and the testing on 26/4 was ‘static’ ie measuring the gap to the doors rather than any movement of doors (and it’s not completely clear what the results were) so suggest delete that part of the comment to avoid confusion/suggestion of over-claiming.

Sylvia and colleagues,

Have returned the updated BT Report separately.
No comments for/from me on rest other than to support the idea that we might note that an ‘Amber’ categorisation is being developed to show items reporting as on time but where there are known pressures. I think that if we can actually do this (and I fully understand the dilemma for Lucy) then we need to recognise the need, otherwise we do risk sudden bad news with a trail of apparent ‘greens’ to date.
Am away for the weekend so it’s unlikely I’ll be able to respond to anything further this evening.

Lucy,
Thanks, we can tweak words to update and keep things fresh but I think its wrong if we feel we can only mention things once and then have to drop them. Danger is the story than becomes pretty fragmented/random as we all search for ‘novelty’. That’s also not not how weve done the RSD report which evolves and I think works OK.

Hi Sylvia, Lucy,

I have tracked my changes on the attached document for the cost section and have included text to respond to Val’s questions below.

I have also included some comments within Appendix A where we may consider adding some text to explain potential pressures where the status is Green in advance of potentially getting more amber ratings within the P1 update. Are we on track for this following the CRL internal review last week?

Echoing Howard’s comments last week we should aim to reduce any surprises in the reports.

Thank you

All,

Please see below the comment from City Hall – are we in a position to include them in the next version of the note?

Thanks,

Sylvia

We’d like some more information on the reporting of funding, specifically about key upcoming dates we need to be aware of. I raised this a couple of weeks ago and I'm hoping that there is more certainty now.

First, do we have a confirmed date yet for when the semi-annual construction report will be submitted? Also, I know I’ve asked this before, but can I double check that this will not be published in the public domain at this stage?

Secondly, in the recent Mayor’s meeting with the SoS it was agreed that there would be a joint public statement ahead of the SoS’s statement to Parliament in June. Have there been any further discussions about agreeing a date for this? And do we have a confirmed date for the SoS’s statement to Parliament?

I suggest you also pull forward a para from Howard’s BT briefing – I can’t specify which without seeing it.

I’ve included a sentence on NR activity over this coming weekend – again at this point I’m having to guess a bit…..

Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation recommenced on 30 April after the train testing phase. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7-12 June. The next set of train testing activities between Canary Wharf and Woolwich will take place 10-14 May. At stations a range of work continues including: Paddington installation of mechanical and electrical equipment; Bond Street western ticket hall lift installation; Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power-ons; Farringdon completing platform tiling; Liverpool Street installation of incline lift; and Woolwich completion of escalator and lift installation.

Network Rail undertook important Crossrail work over the bank holiday weekend including further enabling station works at Ealing Broadway, Southall, Acton Main Line and Hayes & Harlington.

Lucy,
Thanks, we can tweak words to update and keep things fresh but I think its wrong if we feel we can only mention things once and then have to drop them. Danger is the story than becomes pretty fragmented/random as we all search for 'novelty'. That's also not not how weve done the RSD report which evolves and I think works OK.

Thanks, skimming through this whilst waiting at OOC for Perm Sec visit. Quick observations:
1. I issued updated RSD report yesterday evening
2. Para 2.4 and 2.5 of the Headlines section remain as valid as ever. Some progress on asset data in the week, training mixed and CRL assurance submissions to RAB-C looms as large as ever. Actions in place but right to keep these front and centre.
3. Good - in terms of avoiding surprises - if some of the greens could be Ambered (easier once we have the full countdown metrics in place next week) certainly the trains ones for trial running and trial ops I’d say are amber (we wont have staff trained on shafts and portals for instance - we are focused on routeway) and I would have thought the assurance ones (not many when you look down the list) are under pressure although the RfLi approval will likely come though on time or even early (but thats saying we have a good system as an IM not how things are going in terms of taking things over).
Hope that helps, I’m back in the office PM.

Richard,

1. Final-Final BT Report attached (only change from BT over weekend is 45 units completed rather than 44).
2. Good to note 'Amber' process (thanks Lucy) – suspect there will be a number of these next week (or week after) so good to flag it.
3. Just thinking ahead for the next report (not this one) we should note the T minus and checkpoint process – particularly the checkpoint dates as these may be useful to have in City Hall’s mind.
4. Pedantry but suggest we remove the sentence in red under Dynamic Testing re Door Testing to commence on 26/4. As it’s red but 26/4 is ahead of 9/5 it’s likely this will be questioned by City Hall and the testing on 26/4 was ‘static’ ie measuring the gap to the doors rather than any movement of doors (and it’s not completely clear what the results were) so suggest delate that part of the comment to avoid confusion/suggestion of over-claiming.

Kind regards
Howard

Have returned the updated BT Report separately.

No comments for/from me on rest other than to support the idea that we might note that an ‘Amber’ categorisation is being developed to show items reporting as on time but where there are known pressures. I think that if we cant actually do this (and I fully understand the dilemma for Lucy) then we need to recognise the need, otherwise we do risk sudden bad news with a trail of apparent ‘greens’ to date.

All,
Please see below the comment from City Hall – are we in a position to include them in the next version of the note?
Thanks,
Sylvia

We’d like some more information on the reporting of funding, specifically about key upcoming dates we need to be aware of. I raised this a couple of weeks ago and I’m hoping that there is more certainty now.
First, do we have a confirmed date yet for when the semi-annual construction report will be submitted? Also, I know I’ve asked this before, but can I double check that this will not be published in the public domain at this stage?

Secondly, in the recent Mayor’s meeting with the SoS it was agreed that there would be a joint public statement ahead of the SoS’s statement to Parliament in June. Have there been any further discussions about agreeing a date for this? And do we have a confirmed date for the SoS’s statement to Parliament?

Here you go Sylvia – I’d say “starter for ten” but more like “starter for one and a half”. I’m struggling to find much to write…..I may get some more prompts from our weekly call with JST tomorrow morning but in advance of that please see below. Happy for anyone to volunteer ideas.

I suggest you also pull forward a para from Howard’s BT briefing – I can’t specify which without seeing it

I’ve included a sentence on NR activity over this coming weekend – again at this point I’m having to guess a bit…..

Tunnel fit-out activities including overhead conducting rail and cabling installation recommenced on 30 April after the train testing phase. The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7-12 June. The next set of train testing activities between Canary Wharf and Woolwich will take place 10-14 May.

At stations a range of work continues including: Paddington installation of mechanical and electrical equipment; Bond Street western ticket hall lift installation; Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power-ons; Farringdon completing platform tiling; Liverpool Street installation of incline lift; and Woolwich completion of escalator and lift installation

Network Rail undertook important Crossrail work over the bank holiday weekend including further enabling station works at Ealing Broadway, Southall, Acton Main Line and Hayes & Harlington.

Ok – I’ve included the two points in the latest version.
I’m am now on leave until Wednesday so Richard has kindly agreed to pick up the process from this point.
I’ve asked Andy to try and get some initial views from Mike on the attached clean version, but Howard please include Richard in the email when you respond to my BT briefing questions.

Lucy,
Thanks, we can tweak words to update and keep things fresh but I think its wrong if we feel we can only mention things once and then have to drop them. Danger is the story than becomes pretty fragmented/random as we all search for ‘novelty’. That’s also not how weve done the RSD report which evolves and I think works OK.

Thanks, skimming through this whilst waiting at OOC for Perm Sec visit. Quick observations:
1. I issued updated RSD report yesterday evening
2. Para 2.4 and 2.5 of the Headlines section remain as valid as ever. Some progress on asset data in the week, training mixed and CRL assurance submissions to RAB-C looms as large as ever. Actions in place but right to keep these front and centre.
3. Good - in terms of avoiding surprises - if some of the greens could be Ambered (easier once we have the full countdown metrics in place next week) certainly the trains ones for trial running and trial ops (I’d say are amber (we wont have staff trained on shafts and portals for instance - we are focused on routeway) and I would have thought the assurance ones (not many when you look down the list) are under pressure although the RfLi approval will likely come though on time or even early (but thats saying we have a good system as an IM not how things are going in terms of taking things over).
Hope that helps, I’m back in the office PM.

Echoing Howard’s comments last week we should aim to reduce any surprises in the reports.

I take your point completely and I added in more to 4.1 to try and assist with this. Pretty much all of the dates are under pressure but they may still be within the date baseline or mitigated to reduce impact and knock ons.

I’m not confident that I can go through the milestone list today and attribute ambers to them in a consistent way and then add text to explain why (e.g. BOS date being green - yes it’s under pressure but it’s for the Phase 3 testing to be complete and for familiarisation and trial ops to start from end of October not completion of the station…).

Let’s have another go for next week’s note on the best way to phrase that point - I know what you mean but there is a difficult balance to be struck between getting that caution across, and just sounding like a description of MOHS and what Amber means now that we’ve added one to the schedule. I fear the drafting that got cut may not have leant heavily enough on the former.

Stephanie and Andy,

Thanks very much. Obviously Mike’s the boss so his call but I think that one of the delations is the reference to the imminent MOHS review and the high likelihood that several of the CRL dates will go amber and/or red.

Obviously this week is now done but both David H and I thought that we do need to flag the areas under pressure - and the imminent change to ambers - as you know we have, in the past, sometimes been thought not to have flagged risks sufficiently clearly in advance.

When we produce next weeks report can we please give this some thought. I’m happy to provide further explanation if necessary - and or work with others to simplify whilst keeping the message clear.

<!-[if IsSupportLists]-->2. <!-[endif]-->Good to note ‘Amber’ process (thanks Lucy) – suspect there will be a number of these next week (or week after) so good to flag it.
<!-[if IsSupportLists]-->3. <!-[endif]-->Just thinking ahead for the next report (not this one) we should note the T minus and checkpoint process – particularly the checkpoint dates as these may be useful to have in City Hall’s mind.

4. Pedantry but suggest we remove the sentence in red under Dynamic Testing re Door Testing to commence on 26/4. As it’s red but 26/4 is ahead of 9/5 it’s likely this will be questioned by City Hall and the testing on 26/4 was ‘static’ ie measuring the gap to the doors rather than any movement of doors (and it’s not completely clear what the results were) so suggest delete that part of the comment to avoid confusion/suggestion of over-claiming.

Sylvia and colleagues,

Have returned the updated BT Report separately.

No comments for/from me on rest other than to support the idea that we might note that an ‘Amber’ categorisation is being developed to show items reporting as on time but where there are known pressures. I think that if we can’t actually do this (and I fully understand the dilemma for Lucy) then we need to recognise the need, otherwise we do risk sudden bad news with a trail of apparent ‘greens’ to date.

Am away for the weekend so it’s unlikely I’ll be able to respond to anything further this evening.

Lucy,

Thanks, we can tweak words to update and keep things fresh but I think its wrong if we feel we can only mention things once and then have to drop them. Danger is the story than becomes pretty fragmented/random as we all search for ‘novelty’. That’s also not not how weve done the RSD report which evolves and I think works OK.

I think Howard was proposing you reinclude paras 2.4 and 2.5 from last week’s briefing as they remain current? I’m not sure how you feel on reincluding stuff or whether you want new things each week or items that were in the week before that have changed and therefore should be mentioned again?

Thanks, skimming through this whilst waiting at OOC for Perm Sec visit. Quick observations:
1. I issued updated RSD report yesterday evening
2. Para 2.4 and 2.5 of the Headlines section remain as valid as ever. Some progress on asset data in the week, training mixed and CRL assurance submissions to RAB-C looms as large as ever. Actions in place but right to keep these front and centre.
3. Good - in terms of avoiding surprises - if some of the greens could be Ambered (easier once we have the full countdown metrics in place next week) certainly the trains ones for trial running and trial ops I’d say are amber (we wont have staff trained on shafts and portals for instance - we are focused on routeway) and I would have thought the assurance ones (not many when you look down the list) are under pressure although the RfLi approval will likely come though on time or even early (but thats saying we have a good system as an IM not how things are going in terms of taking things over).

Hope that helps, I’m back in the office PM.

We’d like some more information on the reporting of funding, specifically about key upcoming dates we need to be aware of. I raised this a couple of weeks ago and I’m hoping that there is more certainty now.

First, do we have a confirmed date yet for when the semi-annual construction report will be submitted? Also, I know I’ve asked this before, but can I double check that this will not be published in the public domain at this stage?

Secondly, in the recent Mayor’s meeting with the SoS it was agreed that there would be a joint public statement ahead of the SoS’s statement to Parliament in June. Have there been any further discussions about agreeing a date for this? And do we have a confirmed date for the SoS’s statement to Parliament?

The tunnel fit-out activities between Paddington and Whitechapel are being prioritised to ensure those needed for train testing in that section can start in the testing window between 7-12 June. The next set of train testing activities between Canary Wharf and Woolwich will take place 10-14 May.

At stations a range of work continues including: Paddington installation of mechanical and electrical equipment; Bond Street western ticket hall lift installation; Tottenham Court Road and Whitechapel readiness for tunnel ventilation fan and overhead line power-ons; Farringdon completing platform tiling; Liverpool Street installation of incline lift; and Woolwich completion of escalator and lift installation.

Network Rail undertook important Crossrail work over the bank holiday weekend including further enabling station works at Ealing Broadway, Southall, Acton Main Line and Hayes & Harlington.

Ah yes on the test window – I see the actual testing has been reduced to 25 May.

Lucy,

Thanks, looks good.

Not sure I’ve any better words for para 3, only thing I’ve highlighted to Jeremy Bates is that the amount of signal testing looms large so referring to that might be sensible to note specifically perhaps ‘.....sufficient fit-out and testing activity, particularly signalling testing, as well as trial running and operational readiness……’
Secondly – I thought the next testing window had been reduced to 1 day as there is little new to test – worth checking.

Kind regards
Howard
TfL Rail services between Paddington and Heathrow commenced on 20 May 2018. These services use the existing (former Heathrow connect) rolling stock to the airport (two trains per hour) and the new Class 345 trains between Paddington and Hayes & Harlington (two trains per hour).

Tunnel fit-out activities are continuing in advance of the next train testing window 25 – 28 May. Station fit-out and testing activities remain ongoing. The “power on” of the western tunnel section (Paddington to Whitechapel) remains on schedule for 11 June.

There remain challenges in completing some critical activities including testing required by the dates established in CRL’s master operational handover schedule. A revised plan is under development with input from all involved parties that will continue to allow sufficient fit-out and testing activity, trial running and operational readiness prior to commencement of Elizabeth line services in December 2018. Further details will be provided once finalised.

The provision of asset data, operation and maintenance manuals and training materials by contractors remains challenging. This is needed to support the handover and bringing into use of the railway for Paddington to Abbey Wood services. Crossrail Ltd (CRL) is applying pressure on contractors at senior level to provide materials to meet training and handover plans, and working with TfL to prioritise the production schedule.

There is a significant volume of safety assurance and approvals required in order to support increasingly complex aspects of dynamic testing and ultimately bring the railway into safe operation. The rate of submissions to the safety assurance bodies needs to increase and CRL has secured additional resource to assist with this as well as establishing new weekly metrics, a daily focus on required deliverables and escalation with contractors at a senior level.

3 Costs
3.1 CRL’s costs are reported on a periodic basis and are available up to the end of Period 13 (up to 31 March 2018). The forecast for the delivery of the central section has increased at the end of Period 13 to £12,723m, from £12,467m in Period 12. This follows a review to incorporate the implications of the revised Master Operational Handover programme, previously reported delays to energisation and lower than expected levels of productivity on the systemwide and stations contracts.

3.2 At the end of Period 13, the forecast cost to complete the Crossrail works exceeds the £600m TfL contingency by £211m. A breach in funding will be reported formally in the Crossrail semi-annual construction report that will be made available to TfL and DfT officials (Sponsors) following the CRL Board meeting on 24 May.

3.3 The forecast cost for Network Rail’s delivery of the On Network Works (ONW) remains unchanged at £2,530m, against the original budget of £2,300m. Under the Crossrail agreements, this cost overrun is a DfT held risk. NR has indicated further risks in the range of [redacted] with a funding request of [redacted] to be funded from NR contingency.

3.4 We are working with the DfT to agree how to jointly resolve the funding shortfall. The Sponsors anticipate the increase in costs above currently agreed funding will be made public in the annual Written Ministerial Statement (WMS) that is being prepared for Parliament. The DfT has brought forward the date of the WMS to the week commencing 11 June in response to the media speculation regarding the increase in costs.

3.5 In addition, TfL, DfT, and CRL will coordinate the release of press statements to accompany the WMS. This is an opportunity to explain the context of the cost increase, promote the successes of the project and share the challenges remaining ahead of opening the central section in December 2018.

Thanks
Richard

Hi Stephanie,

Nick B has come back and asked if it can be made clearer where a change has been made in Appendix A, from the previous week? He has suggested that an asterix could be added to each row where a change has been made.

No need to amend for this week’s update – from next week onwards would be fine.

Many thanks

Hi Erica

The important thing about David’s first comment, I think, is also to emphasise the benefits of the new ‘blockading’ way of working that Crossrail have adopted. By having defined windows of work followed by testing (and then back to working again), they waste far less time with handovers between the working and testing teams. It also makes for a safer working environment - hand over times are when risks tend to be higher.

So if you accept that better way of working then yes, the next question is whether they’ve got the balance right between the ‘working’ and ‘testing’ time periods. I think Crossrail would fairly robustly defend their current balance - but there should be the flexibility to amend that balance if it turns out to be necessary further down the line.

Hope that makes sense but please shout if not.

Andy

Kate,
Thanks. We’ve been including the funding info we have but for the next version, I’ll ask if there are specific dates – the ones I am aware of are not confirmed which is why we’ve not included them.

Thanks,

Hi Stephanie,

We’d like some more information on the reporting of funding, specifically about key upcoming dates we need to be aware of. I raised this a couple of weeks ago and I’m hoping that there is more certainty now.

First, do we have a confirmed date yet for when the semi-annual construction report will be submitted? Also, I know I’ve asked this before, but can I double check that this will not be published in the public domain at this stage?

Secondly, in the recent Mayor’s meeting with the SoS it was agreed that there would be a joint public statement ahead of the SoS’s statement to Parliament in June. Have there been any further discussions about agreeing a date for this? And do we have a confirmed date for the SoS’s statement to Parliament?

Many thanks,
Erica

Hi Stephanie,

The WMS will be finalised for routing through the DfT on 4 June. We’ll get some clarity through that process which day during the week it will land.

As for the CRL report, we should have clarity after the Board meeting on the 24th.

Hi Stephanie,

We can confirm that the semi-annual construction report will only be made available to TfL and DfT Sponsors and will not be made public at any point. It will be made available after the CRL Board meeting, but we do not have a specific date.

We do not have specific dates for the WMS (though we know it will be during the week of 25 June). The press statements will be made at the same time as the WMS. The funding arrangement will be shared in the WMS as appropriate – though at this time we do not have the details of what they are.

We will include updated dates in the Weekly Report when available.

Hope this helps.

With regards to Erica’s questions on dates, we don’t want to include them in the body of the briefing so we suggest it’s included in the email that goes to City Hall.

Thanks Steph.

My thoughts, for what they’re worth, on this draft:

- We need some more detail about the benefits of the ‘blockading’ approach for testing, as in our email exchange with Erica earlier this week
- Para 2.5 needs a rewrite because they keep saying the same thing but never coming up with an answer - City Hall has cottoned onto this, so just repeating ourselves about the risk isn’t good enough any more
- How can “All 11 kV S,S&P locations energized” be green in the tracker, when it is behind target?

Thanks

Andy

In last weeks note David had a comment on whether we have the capacity for additional testing. Andy mentioned that the most important thing about David’s first comment, was that we hadn’t emphasised the benefits of the new ‘blockading’ way of working that Crossrail have adopted. By having defined windows of work followed by testing (and then back to working again), they waste far less time with handovers between the working and testing teams. It also makes for a safer working environment - hand over times are when risks tend to be higher.

Is this your understanding too?

Kind regards
Stephanie
