

Dates for your Diary

Wed 1 June Bring Your Daughter to Work Day

Give your daughter the opportunity to find out more about what you and your colleagues do, and gain a valuable insight into the transport industry. Your daughter will be able to find out more about the variety of careers we offer and meet some of the inspirational men and women working in our organisation. She may even be inspired to consider a career in transport! You can also bring her along to our careers fair on 10th Floor, 55 Broadway from 12:30-14:00.

For more information look on Source

Wed 22 June An Insight into Cyber Security

Come along to our breakfast session to hear Michele Hanson, Chief Information Security Officer (CISO), at Transport for London, give an insight into her role and her career in tech. She'll also discuss how we can ensure we have a correctly skilled workforce and are attracting the right talent. Email the team to register.

Time: 08:00-09:30

Location: District Room, 7th Floor, 55 Broadway, London, SW1H 0BH

Thur 23 June Women in ITS interest group

Intelligent Transport Systems UK (ITS UK) are marking National Women in Engineering day (NWED) by holding a meeting on Connected and Autonomous Vehicles (CAVs) with an all-female line up of speakers, showcasing the contribution of women professionals to this very hot topic. Lunch will be provided. There are only 20 places left for this popular event. Email Rachael if you'd like to attend.

Time: 12:00-17:00

Location: Palestra, Zone 1 R3, 197 Blackfriars Road, London, SE1 8NJ

27 June -3 July Young Rail Professionals Rail Week

This year, Young Rail Professionals are launching the first ever coordinated Rail Week in the UK, giving young people, parents, teachers and careers advisors the opportunity to see the exciting projects and range of jobs in rail through an exciting programme of events. Find an event near you.

As part of Rail Week, LOROL are holding two train depot tours and train simulator experiences.

Dates: Saturday 25 June and 2 July

Time: 10:30-13:00

Location: Willesden Junction Train Depot (open to students and parents)

For more information email LOROL or phone 07557 009022

We've changed!

Introducing our new logo and email address!

WIT@tfl.gov.uk

New Badge

Our new badges are hot off the press. If you'd like some for your teams email the WIT team

Hot Topics

Click the links below for more information:

Inspiring a Generation

NWED 2016

The Data Gender Gap

Brilliant interactive CV

Recent events

Mon 16 May Legacy Launch Event

On Monday 16 May, Women in Transport launched its legacy at City Hall. The event opened with a short film summarising the success of the YOWIT programme which was followed by speeches from Mike Brown MVO, Commissioner at Transport for London and Val Shawcross CBE, Deputy Mayor for Transport. Both spoke in detail about the importance of the campaign and the need for a more diverse workforce. We also unveiled our industry wide schools engagement toolkit Inspiring a generation which aims to engage, motivate and inspire the next generation to consider a career in transport. Please explore and share widely.

As Women in Transport, we are now looking to the future to ensure we leave a lasting legacy. We are turning our attention to think about how we can embed all the great achievements made over the past 18 months into everything we do, and how we can make sure diversity remains high up on the agenda. Thanks to Computacenter, Novacraft and Thales for sponsoring our legacy launch.

Sat 14 May National Train Day

On Saturday 14 May, organisations and people from across the UK took to social media to celebrate National Train Day. Twitter users shared interesting facts, train-related puns and photographs using the hashtag #TrainDayUK, with the top 50 participants winning our new Women in Transport badge.

Sat 23 Apr Women Engineers in the Great War & After

This public event hosted by the Women's Engineering Society (WES) aimed to raise awareness of early women engineers in Britain, how they worked together to promote further opportunities for female practitioners, and the archival resources available for further study. Speakers included Henrietta Heald, on Rachel Parsons (1885 - 1956), Nina Baker on Dorothee Pullinger

Winners!

We're proud to announce that YOWIT won Marketing Campaign of the Year 2016 at the Excellence in Diversity Awards on 12 May, beating over 1,000 entries received from companies throughout the UK.

YOWIT was also instrumental in TfL's win of Inclusion and Diversity Champion of the Year 2016 at the ACE Engineering & Consultancy Awards on 24 May!

Congratulations to Jo Field of TfL, winner of the Industry Champion Award at the 2016 Everywoman in Transport and Logistics Awards!

Finally, congratulations to Hollie Woodard of Volker Rail who has been named one of Women in Rail's Top 20 Most Inspirational Women in Rail 2016!

Inspire the Future!

Inspiring the Future

We launched the Inspiring the Future scheme at TfL during National Careers Week (7-11) March to allow anyone working at TfL to inspire the next generation. Being part of the scheme requires a commitment of just one hour each year. During this time, you will talk to young people about your job and career route, at a state school or college near where you live or work.

Get Involved

To sign up to the scheme and find out more about all the other volunteering opportunities you can get involved in, check out our project page on Source

inspiring
the future

Inspiring a Generation

Our schools toolkit is now live! Use it to engage, motivate and inspire young people to consider a career in transport as well as educate teachers and parents on the breadth of opportunity in our industry. Use it when you go into schools to bring your presentations to life or create an interactive careers session, share the link on social media and share it with colleagues, friends and family:

<http://inspiringageneration.tumblr.com/>

Same but Different

Same But Different is a photography project that celebrates and shines a light on the diversity of women in the workplace. Women's experiences of work are influenced not just by their sex or gender but by other aspects of their identity, such as race, sexual orientation, disability, culture, religion, class background or health.

For its first phase, the project is looking to interview and photograph a small selection of diverse women who will feature in a series of portraits, working with celebrated photographer Leonora Saunders. For the second phase, the project is looking to include personal contributions from thousands of women.

To take part in this ground breaking project – either to be photographed or to contribute your experiences, please contact same but different

Photo shoot

The London Buses team are planning a photo shoot whose purpose is to update the TfL image library to show driver interaction with many groups of customers, as well as showing these groups on the bus together.

In order to get the best possible photos, of a bus full of customers, they would like as many people as possible to come along. They are in particular need of at least two parents with buggies. If you would like to take part, even for a couple of hours, please email the team

Date: Thur 2 June

Time: 10:30-15:40

Location: East London (Stratford/Canning Town areas)

Coffee Roulette

Sign up now!

A simple way to get to know colleagues from across the organisation, hear about what they do, and build a better understanding of the transport industry.

How it works

Every month you will be randomly paired with another person. It will then be up to you to organise a coffee break with each other. We would recommend at least a 30 minute slot to make the most of the session.

It's a great opportunity to expand on your existing networks. To sign up email the team

