

Important Information for Private Hire Drivers

Cribble

We have been approached about a new PHV booking app called Cribble which we understand is due to launch on Monday 11 March in London.

Based on our understanding of how the app works, any private hire drivers working via the app would be plying for hire which is unlawful.

Any licensed private hire driver found to be plying for hire - through the Cribble app or otherwise - risks prosecution and licensing action by TfL.

Should the position change in relation to the app, drivers will be notified as appropriate.
