Transport for London (TfL), its subsidiaries and service providers will use your personal information (including data captured by camera) for the purposes of customer services and administration, the enforcement of road user charging schemes, the provision of travel related information, research, fraud prevention and debt recovery. Your personal information will be properly safeguarded and processed in accordance with privacy and data protection legislation. Further information is available at www.tfl.gov.uk/privacy

We may share your information with, and receive information from, the Driver and Vehicle Licensing Agency, local authorities and other relevant organisations, to administer and enforce TfL's road user charging schemes (including verifying discount eligibility); prevent and detect crime, trace and recover unpaid debt and protect public funds. TfL may randomly select and monitor vehicles subject to a discount to identify possible fraudulent use. Images captured by the Road User Charging cameras show a vehicle, its registration number and the immediate surroundings. In only a small number of cases will it be possible to see the occupants of a vehicle or other individuals in the immediate area.

If you are requesting an image of yourself rather than a vehicle, it is unlikely that any images will be found. If you supply the details requested in section 4, a search will be made.

Please bear in mind that images requested may no longer be retained as we may have deleted them.
